Jerusalem Truce Is Effective Today

Haganah, Arab Official Order Firing To End

Fighting Continues In Jewish Quarter

JERUSALEM, May 7 (INS) — Arabs and Jews tonight agreed to a cease-fire order in the holy city of Jerusalem, effective at noon tomorrow (6 a. m. EDT).

Announcement of the truce acceptance by leaders of both sides came in a British communique even while the crash of artillery and mortars rocked sections of Jerusalem and other parts of Palestine.

Cease-fire orders were issued by Haganah, the Zionist militia, and Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, Arab League secretary-general.

While Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, the British High Commissioner, was telephoning the truce agreement from his Jerusalem home to the information office, three-cornered fighting raged in the Jewish Yemen Moshe quarter.

Cunningham's staff was reported to have lain on the floor seeking cover from flying bullets while their chief announced the cease-fire pact.

Details Of Truce Not Known

Ten minutes earlier Cunningham's car returning from peace talks was reported to have blundered into the scene of the Yemen Moshe battle where Arabs and Jews exchanged heavy fire while the British joined in with six-pound guns.

Details of the cease-fire order were not immediately known, but it was reported that the Jews and Arabs still disagree on Jewish access to the vital Jerusalem-Tel Aviv road link.

World religious leaders have been calling for a "truce of God" to protect the Christian, Jewish and Moslem shrine city, as was successfully invoked on warring European nobles in medieval days.

The Jews, meanwhile, are going ahead with plans to proclaim their state May 16. Certain departments—including the Justice and Economic Departments—reportedly will be functioning even before the state is formally announced.

United Nation Commission members hope a Jerusalem truce can be extended throughout the Holy Land—but the fighting continued tonight.

Jericho Conference Held

The Arab League secretary issued his orders following a meeting in Jericho, 15 miles northeast of embattled Jerusalem, with Sir Henry Gurney, chief secretary of the British administration, and a number of other senior government civil servants.

The three-man United Nations Commission first had talked with Arab leaders in Jericho two days ago, but the Arabs had insisted on closure of the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem "Jewish lifeline" highway as a condition for a truce. The Jews refused.

Haganah announced officially today it had captured Safad, Arab city north of the Sea of Galilee, and that the Arab occupants had fled eastward across the Jordan River boundary.

Arab headquarters in Damascus claimed the Jews were repulsed with heavy losses "and our forces retain their positions despite strong enemy reinforcements and new attacks."

The troopship Georgic arrived at the port of Haifa to embark several thousand more troops.

TENSE SITUATION-- College students mill around police wrecker trucks used for towing in double-parked cars on the University of Nebraska campus, Lincoln, Neb. The attempts yesterday by police to remove the cars created a tense situation but no violence.

Britain Backs Stopgap Holy Land Regime

U.N. Asked To Name Jerusalem Mayor

LAKE SUCCESS, May 7—(AP)—Britain called tonight for an emergency United Nations organization to carry on ordinary life in Palestine after May 15.

Arthur Creech-Jones, British Colonial Secretary, agreed with a growing feeling among United Nations delegates that the United Nations Assembly on Palestine must create an emergency regime to take over Palestine when the British mandate ends on that date.

But he told a special 12-nation subcommittee of the Assembly that he was strongly against any organization with wide powers. He said this organization must have the agreement of both Arabs and Jews, and that it must stop work as soon as a solution is reached in Palestine.

Creech-Jones spoke to the subcommittee at a private session shortly before he planned to leave for London.

Can't Find Neutral Mayor

Earlier Britain had asked the United Nations to help find a neutral mayor for Jerusalem.

The British said they were unable to discover such a man in Palestine.

Then they asked the special United Nations Assembly to name someone acceptable to Arabs and Jews to fill one of the hottest jobs in the world.

The British informed the United Nations they still were trying in London to locate a mayor for the Holy City.

Reports from Jerusalem, meanwhile, said Jews and Arabs virtually have agreed to a truce for Jerusalem. The Arabs were said to have issued a cease-fire order effective at noon tomorrow; the Jews said they would stop shooting when the Arabs did.

Sharp words fled at the United Nations headquarters after the United Nations press Division said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, of Britain, had advised Secretary-General Trygve Lie that Britain had been unable to find a man for the spot and had suggested the United Nations try to pick a nominee in talks with Arabs and Jews here.

U. S. Assails Decision

The United States delegation called this reported decision "another example of the shocking lack of co-operation by the British with the United Nations" on the Palestine issue.

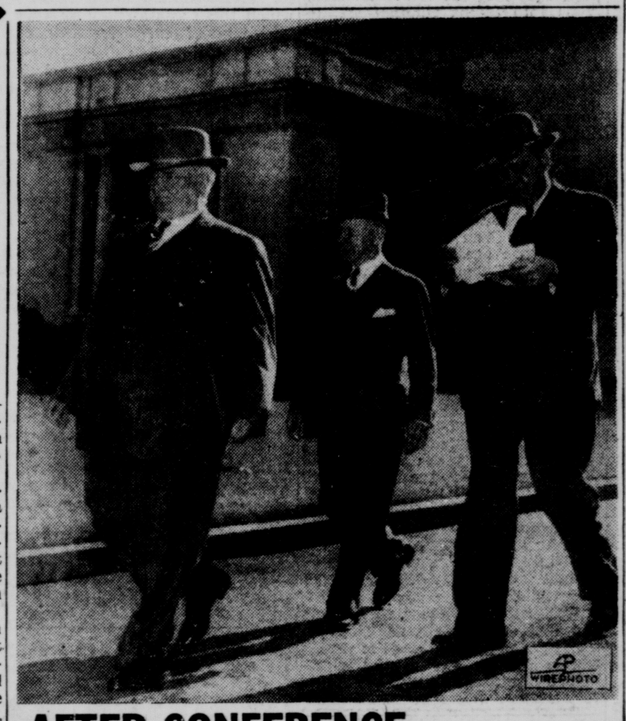
A British delegation spokesman said this actuallly is the situation:

1. The High Commissioner for Palestine notified Arthur Creech-Jones, British Colonial Secretary that he could not find a man in Palestine for the Jerusalem post. He suggested the United Nations try here. Creech-Jones sent the message to Lie.

2. The British delegation received a message from Bevin's office saying the government was continuing attempts in London to find an acceptable man.

The United States delegation spokesman then said the Americans were glad to hear the British were continuing efforts to find a suitable man.

The Assembly yesterday voted 35 to 0 for a resolution recommending that the British name a neutral acceptable to both Jews and Arabs. This man would administer the Holy City when the British give up the mandate a week from tomorrow.



AFTER CONFERENCE-- At the conclusion of a second conference yesterday, heads of the three railroad unions walked down the drive of the White House east entrance. The White House reported that the meetings on averting a railroad strike were "without definite results." From left to right are Alvanley Johnston, of the locomotive engineers; David B. Robertson, of the firemen and enginemen, and Alfred J. Glover, switchmen's union president.

Informants Say 20-Day Truce May Be Sought

Steelman And Carrier Negotiators To Meet

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP) — A day-long round of White House conferences today failed to produce a formula to head off the threatened railroad strike.

Negotiators were shunted in and out of the White House on makeshift schedules—all "without definite results."

That was the way one of President Truman's helpers summed up the situation after these developments:

1. The heads of three key railroad unions which have voted to strike next Tuesday conferred twice with John R. Steelman, the President's labor trouble-shooter. The union men said things were just discussed "in a general way" and that Steelman presented no formula for heading off the strike.

2. Steelman instructed the railroads to send their negotiating committee to the White House "as early as possible" tomorrow morning. The carriers' bargaining unit was in Chicago today.

3. Immediately after his second conference with the union men, Steelman called in W. T. Faricy, president of the Association of American Railroads. He also had talked with that management representative yesterday.

Strike Delay May Be Sought

4. The word went around that the White House, as a last resort, is ready to ask for a 20-day postponement of the strike. One of the union chiefs said, however, that such a postponement was not discussed at today's conferences.

Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary, told reporters that the conferences were "exploratory" and that the union men would be called back if Steelman wants to see them after he has talked with the representatives of management.

Present at the two meetings were Alvanley Johnston of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; David B. Robertson, of the firemen and enginemen; Arthur J. Glover, Jr., of the switchmen, and Steelman.

There was no indication of the trend of their talks. But the union men said that Steelman thus far made no concrete suggestions or indicated that the government has any compromise proposal in mind.

Tonight Johnston described as "all bunk" reports that the union chiefs had submitted "secret peace terms" to Steelman for presentation tomorrow to negotiators for the carriers.

"Oh, that's all bunk," Johnston told a reporter. "It's made out of the whole cloth. We just talked over the whole situation in general and no proposals were made at all."

Situation "Explored"

Informants who spread the word that a 20-day truce might be sought said that the government doesn't like the idea of a simple postponement, but is considering it in the event the strike cannot be staved off any other way.

The outlook seemed dark after reporters "all we did was spend an

Bring MacArthur Back, Wainwright Tells Congress

Says U. S. "Enemies" Foment Revolution

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the Bataan hero, told Congress today: Bring Gen. Douglas MacArthur home, because the "enemies of the United States" seek civil war and revolution in this country.

Wainwright said in a letter to Republican leaders of Congress that "no man in this country suffered more because of lack of preparedness, except possibly himself, than Douglas MacArthur."

He added:

"He (MacArthur) knows only too well that the present enemies of the United States and our world desire first to accomplish their objective of the destruction of our constitutional democracy by means of revolution and civil war.

"Their last resort only would be real war from the land, sea and air.

"There is no officer in the United States armed forces whose experience in any degree equals that of Gen. MacArthur.

"Why does the Congress of the United States not order Gen. MacArthur back to testify before it and give the country the benefit of his vast knowledge and these dominant, all-consuming necessities of today?"

Wainright's letter was made public by the National Veterans Committee for MacArthur for President. He heads the committee.

The retired General's statement came as Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) announced that Congress will give top priority to all preparedness legislation between now and possible adjournment June 19.

U. N. Urged To Stop Work On World Atom Control

LAKE SUCCESS, May 7 (AP)—Six countries urged the United Nations today to stop work looking toward world atomic control until Russia decides to co-perate.

The United States, France and Britain formally recommended that the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission suspend deliberations on atomic control and toss the whole problem back to the full United Nations Assembly.

If the commission agrees, it will be the first United Nations body to acknowledge failure.

Canadian Quake Causes Excitement, Little Damage

MONTREAL, May 7 (AP) — An earthquake which had its origin about 20 miles north of Montreal caused much excitement but little damage today.

Frightened residents telephoned police and newspapers.

U Saw Hanged For Attempted Burmese Coup

RANGOON, Burma, Saturday, May 8 (AP)—Former Premier U Saw and five conspirators were hanged at dawn today for the atempted coup and assassination of seven Cabinet members last July 19.

U Saw was executed at 5:15 a. m. The others followed him to the execution grounds at intervals. Witnesses said U Saw strode firmly into the execution place, knelt briefly in prayer at a pagoda near the foot of the big double gallows and then walked unassisted up the earthen ramp to the trap.

U Saw's hands were mancled behind him and the white death hood was slipped quickly over his head. The noose was set in place and without delay the trap was sprung by a jailer.

Andresen's Move Irks Southerners

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — A new skirmish in the bitter North-South fight over repeal of oleomargarine taxes broke out in the House today.

Southern tempers shot skyward as Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn) called a hearing tomorrow on a bill to repeal a ban on exports of tobacco seed and plants.

Andresen said southern tobacco-growers induced Congress to embargo tobacco-seed exports in 1940 "so they could stop foreign countries from growing tobacco."

Andresen led a bloc of legislators from northern dairy states in their unsuccessful fight to prevent the repeal of margarine taxes. The repeal bill swept through the House last month. It is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Andresen's announcement drew immediate cries of "spite tactics" from Dixie legislators who sparked the oleo tax repeal battle in the House.

Asked by a reporter if his new move is for "revenge," Andresen said drily:

"This bill was introduced long before the oleo fight was ever thought of. Rep. Reid Murray (R-Wisc) wrote it last year and he's been after me ever since February to get action on it. The oleo fight didn't start until mid-March."

Meanwhile Sen. Thye (R-Minn), from an important butter producing state, conceded today that the Senate will follow the House lead on repeal of oleo taxes. He offered what he called a compromise to speed action.

Dewey Praises Senate, Flays Administration

MEDFORD, Ore., May 7. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E Dewey tonight praised the Senate for approving a 70-group Air Force and overruling "men of little vision."

The New York Governor rapped the administration, saying it was permitting the nation to appear so weak "that dictators feel our soldiers can be pushed around and shot in the back."

"Our national government is warning us in the gravest terms of war-like conditions," the presidential aspirant said in an address prepared for delivery at the armory. "Strange submarines are reported by the government off Alaska, off the Atlantic coast, and off the shores of California. The Russians have been threatening to throw us out or bully us out of Berlin.

"Under all these conditions our government should be doing something to halt the tide. The fact is that our national administration has made almost every possible blunder and we ought to get rid of it at the first possible moment."

Churchill Urges Europe Assembly, Then Federation

Declares Hatreds Must Be Forgotten

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 7—(AP)—Winston Churchill today urged immediate formation of a united European assembly and asked European nations to sacrifice some measure of national sovereignty to permit eventual establishment of a federation. He envisaged this federation as part of a larger world government based on the main grouping of mankind.

Britains wartime prime minister addressed 600 members of a 22-national "Congress of Europe" in a city decorated with a new flag for the proposed European federation. The flag,a large red E on a white background, was designed by Duncan Sandys, son-in-law of Churchill.

The forum was held in the tulip-decorated Hall of Knights, meeting place of the Dutch Senate.

National hatreds of the past must be forgotten so the continent can live in peace, Churchill said. He described the movement for European unity as one of peoples and not of political parties.

"We aim at the eventual participation of all peoples throughout the continent whose society and way of life are not in discord with the charter of human rights and sincere expression of free democracy," Churchill said. "We welcome any country where the people own the government. And not the government the people."

The delegates unanimously adopted a resolution stating that the objectives of the congress will not be attained until "all Europe is united and organized." Fraternal greetings were addressed to all the peoples of Europe.

Churchill did not elaborate on his call for the establishment of a European assembly. However, the delegates from 22 nations attending the forum have before them a resolution urging the establishment of such a body. Until elections could be held, each parliament of Europe should appoint representatives to the assembly.

The assembly would advise an emergency council. The latter body would have almost super-governmental powers. It would be charged with directing joint action for economic recovery and military defense. The council also would plan the federation of Europe. Also before the forum is a resolution for creation of a supreme tribunal to protect fundamental democratic rights.

Denying that such a council would conflict with the United Nations, Churchill reiterated his belief that a body of that type "was a subordinate but necessary part of the world organization."

Pittsburgh Hotel Fire Brought Under Control

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (AP)—A fire atop the 25-story Pittsburger Hotel tonight was brought under control after causing slight damage.

None of the nearly 500 guests in the hotel were ordered from their rooms. Smoke, however, filtered through corridors on top floors and also in elevator shafts.

Within half an hour after the alarm was sounded Deputy Fire Chief John Moroney announced the fire was under control. He said it started in the grease duct of a ventilator fan leading from the hotel's incinerator.

Coal Production Would Stop Soon After Rail Tieup

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—A shutdown of the nation's railroads would bring an almost immediate closing of most of the country's coal mines, John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association, said tonight.

Mines are dependent upon a day to day flow of cars, Battle explained. If no empties are moved in after Monday, he said, "the mines will go down almost immediately."

While some coal is handled by truck, Battle said, the amount so far as the country as a whole is concerned, is negligible.

Opposition Greets Denham's Ruling

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Robert N. Denham, chief counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, told Congress today the NLRB has jurisdiction over labor relations of virtually every business in the United States.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) promptly commented it is "obvious" Congress should act to prevent such a sweeping extension of federal regulation over business.

Hoffman is chairman of a House Expenditures Subcommittee which is investigating Denham's interpretation of the Taft-Hartley Labor law.

Some other members of the committee, Democratic as well as Republican, voiced surprise and opposition to Denham's ruling.

The NLRB official said that under the Taft-Hartley Act, it is "mandatory" for the board to handle cases involving any business "affecting commerce." (He meant interstate commerce).

"It is a rare case where a business does not affect commerce in some degree, and where it does affect commerce the board has jurisdiction," Denham said.

"I can conceive of very few businesses over which we do not have at least technical jurisdiction."

Pressed by Hoffman to cite a specific case of a business which would be exempt from coverage, Denham hesitated, then said:

"Well, a farmer who sold milk locally wouldn't be affected."

But he said that "even a bartender in a tavern in South Carolina who sells beer made in Milwaukee has an affect on commerce and so comes within our jurisdiction."

Head Of Charleston, S. C., Club Is Fatally Stabbed

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 7 (AP)—Robert New, 28, president of this city's Wallace-for-President Club and port agent for the National Maritime Union, was fatally stabbed today.

Detective Herman R. Berkman said New was stabbed at the union headquarters during a fight and died as doctors administered plasma.

Berkman reported that Rudolph Sirrio, 49, of the seaman's home, was being held without charges in connection with the case.

Urge Arms For Jews

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — Thirty-six Republican congressmen jointly urged today that the United States permit shipment of arms to Palestine Jews.

Rail Customers Organize Their Strike Defenses

Housewives Wonder; Car Pools Expanded

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP) — The nation's railroad customers, from industry to individuals, were marshaling their defenses today against the threatened rail strike.

Truck and air freight reservations were in great demand. Commuters hurried to join car pools. Spoiling of millions of dollars worth of produce and other crops was threatened.

Housewives wondered how their dinner tables would be affected if the strike is called Tuesday as threatened. Some workers were given layoff notices, to take effect if the strike comes off.

Six railroads already have issued embargo orders on handling of any new shipments of perishables poultry or livestock, and at least 54 others said they would put similar orders into operation over the week end.

Pennsy To Suspend Operations

Several railroads notified employes of impending layoffs or curtailments of service should the strike go through. The Great Northern Railway, with headquarters in St. Paul, said it would lay off "a large percentage" of employes "representing practically every classification of work."

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced in New York that its entire train, shop and track operations will be suspended if the strike is called. A railroad spokesman said most of its offices will close also.

Instead of setting a general embargo deadline, some railroads have instructed their agents to continue accepting perishables only where delivery before the strike deadline is assured.

At Presque Isle, Me., all potatoes shipments out of Aroostook County were cancelled today by the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad, effective "after Saturday's freight." If the strike comes, potato industry spokesmen said, between 2,000 and 3,000 carloads will have to be moved by boat or diverted to starch or alcohol.

At Cincinnati, Leslie O. Boles, superintendent of the Railway Mail Service's Fifth Division, said "plans are all ready and can be put in operation in an hour's time" for emergency mail service.

TROOPS WILL BE FLOWN TO ALASKA TO FILL OUT UNDERMANNED UNITS

McCHORD FIELD, Wash., May 7 —(AP)—Movement of 500 troops to Alaska by plane to fill out undermanned units was announced by the Air Force today.

Capt. Walter W. Weir, assistant public relations officer here, called it an "emergency" transfer, but made clear that it was merely to replace men who had been moved south from Alaska posts.

Weir said the men, among 2,100 destined to move to Alaska, had been awaiting ship transportation at Seattle's Fort Lawton.

The Seattle Port of Embarkation said Air Force officials there described the air movement as "an expedient method of alleviating the pressing shortages of Air Force manpower throughout the Alaska Air Command." The statement said the latter command requested the mass flights.

A McChord Field officer first announced the "emergency" transfer, but without explanation.

Joke's Over

Silent Barbers Are Scared By Law, Congressman Says

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Ever since there have been barbers, there have been jokes about barbers.

You know: The man in the white coat who bends your ear about politics as he applies the clippers where you don't want them. The barber who wants to sell you every bottle of stinkum on his shelves.

It's a legend that goes 'way back to Roman times. Cicero, the books say, was asked by his barber how he wanted his hair cut. "In silence," the great man replied.

Well, the joke's over.

Your barber doesn't dare try to sell you hair tonic these days, says Rep. Curtis (R-Neb). In fact, the poor guy hardly dares venture an opinion about Russia, or the Brooklyn Dodgers, or Lana Turner.

He's scared to death!

"If a barber wants to sell a bottle or two of hair tonic, he must sign a certificate that scares him to death," Curtis informed the House.

He produced the certificate, too. It's put out by the people who sell barber supplies and it tells the barber what he's up against in the matter of federal taxes:

A $10,000 fine or five years in jail or both if he cracks open a bottle of hair tonic which he bought for resale.

The barbers, said Curtis, are in despair: "They just throw up their hands and cannot operate under such a law. They do not sell at retail . . ."

Curtis has a bill to remedy this. It would take away the 20 per cent federal tax on bulk cosmetics used in barber and beauty shops.

Cairo Is Answer

$20,000 Radio Jackpot Is Won By Oregon Housewife

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (INS)—Mrs. Ward S. George, attractive 32-year-old housewife of Lebanon, Ore., tonight won $20,000 in prizes for correctly answering "Cairo, Egypt" to the eight-week-old riddle on the "People Are Funny" radio show.

The winner, wife of a disabled veteran, wouldn't reveal how she concluded that Cairo, Egypt, was the jackpot winner, but she did admit that she listened to the radio.

Last night the staff of the International News Service Bureau in Los Angeles wrote a story in which they said "Cairo, Egypt" was the answer to the riddle.

The I.N.S. tip was printed and broadcast for what it was worth.

Prizes include a three-bedroom home, a new automobile, a $2,000 lot, a job in Southern California and others.

For eight weeks radio listeners were taunted with this riddle:

"Big Chief Windbag, gloomy and gay
"I'm one over other that lie in decay.
"Where may I be found? Upon low ground—
"That's all, that's all I will say."

The I.N.S. night staff figured that with "30-30" meaning "that's all" in newspaper jargon, Cairo was the answer because the 30th meridian and the 30th parallel cross at Cairo.

Mrs. George was flown to Hollywood to appear on the program.

4. The word went around that the White House, as a last resort, is ready to ask for a 20-day postponement of the strike. One of the union chiefs said, however, that such a postponement was not discussed at today's conferences.

Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary, told reporters that the conferences were "exploratory" and that the union men would be called back if Steelman wants to see them after he has talked with the representatives of management.

Present at the two meetings were Alvanley Johnston of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; David B. Robertson, of the firemen and enginemen; Arthur J. Glover, Jr., of the switchmen, and Steelman.

There was no indication of the trend of their talks. But the union men said that Steelman thus far made no concrete suggestions or indicated that the government has any compromise proposal in mind.

Tonight Johnston described as "all bunk" reports that the union chiefs had submitted "secret peace terms" to Steelman for presentation tomorrow to negotiators for the carriers.

"Oh, that's all bunk," Johnston told a reporter. "It's made out of the whole cloth. We just talked over the whole situation in general and no proposals were made at all."

Situation "Explored"

Informants who spread the word that a 20-day truce might be sought said that the government doesn't like the idea of a simple postponement, but is considering it in the event the strike cannot be staved off any other way.

The outlook seemed dark after reporters "all we did was spend an

Bring MacArthur Back, Wainwright Tells Congress

Says U. S. "Enemies" Foment Revolution

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the Bataan hero, told Congress today: Bring Gen. Douglas MacArthur home, because the "enemies of the United States" seek civil war and revolution in this country.

Wainwright said in a letter to Republican leaders of Congress that "no man in this country suffered more because of lack of preparedness, except possibly himself, than Douglas MacArthur."

He added:

"He (MacArthur) knows only too well that the present enemies of the United States and our world desire first to accomplish their objective of the destruction of our constitutional democracy by means of revolution and civil war.

"Their last resort only would be real war from the land, sea and air.

"There is no officer in the United States armed forces whose experience in any degree equals that of Gen. MacArthur.

"Why does the Congress of the United States not order Gen. MacArthur back to testify before it and give the country the benefit of his vast knowledge and these dominant, all-consuming necessities of today?"

Wainright's letter was made public by the National Veterans Committee for MacArthur for President. He heads the committee.

The retired General's statement came as Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) announced that Congress will give top priority to all preparedness legislation between now and possible adjournment June 19.

U. N. Urged To Stop Work On World Atom Control

LAKE SUCCESS, May 7 (AP)—Six countries urged the United Nations today to stop work looking toward world atomic control until Russia decides to co-perate.

The United States, France and Britain formally recommended that the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission suspend deliberations on atomic control and toss the whole problem back to the full United Nations Assembly.

If the commission agrees, it will be the first United Nations body to acknowledge failure.

Canadian Quake Causes Excitement, Little Damage

MONTREAL, May 7 (AP) — An earthquake which had its origin about 20 miles north of Montreal caused much excitement but little damage today.

Frightened residents telephoned police and newspapers.

U Saw Hanged For Attempted Burmese Coup

RANGOON, Burma, Saturday, May 8 (AP)—Former Premier U Saw and five conspirators were hanged at dawn today for the atempted coup and assassination of seven Cabinet members last July 19.

U Saw was executed at 5:15 a. m. The others followed him to the execution grounds at intervals. Witnesses said U Saw strode firmly into the execution place, knelt briefly in prayer at a pagoda near the foot of the big double gallows and then walked unassisted up the earthen ramp to the trap.

U Saw's hands were mancled behind him and the white death hood was slipped quickly over his head. The noose was set in place and without delay the trap was sprung by a jailer.

Andresen's Move Irks Southerners

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — A new skirmish in the bitter North-South fight over repeal of oleomargarine taxes broke out in the House today.

Southern tempers shot skyward as Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn) called a hearing tomorrow on a bill to repeal a ban on exports of tobacco seed and plants.

Andresen said southern tobacco-growers induced Congress to embargo tobacco-seed exports in 1940 "so they could stop foreign countries from growing tobacco."

Andresen led a bloc of legislators from northern dairy states in their unsuccessful fight to prevent the repeal of margarine taxes. The repeal bill swept through the House last month. It is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Andresen's announcement drew immediate cries of "spite tactics" from Dixie legislators who sparked the oleo tax repeal battle in the House.

Asked by a reporter if his new move is for "revenge," Andresen said drily:

"This bill was introduced long before the oleo fight was ever thought of. Rep. Reid Murray (R-Wisc) wrote it last year and he's been after me ever since February to get action on it. The oleo fight didn't start until mid-March."

Meanwhile Sen. Thye (R-Minn), from an important butter producing state, conceded today that the Senate will follow the House lead on repeal of oleo taxes. He offered what he called a compromise to speed action.

Dewey Praises Senate, Flays Administration

MEDFORD, Ore., May 7. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E Dewey tonight praised the Senate for approving a 70-group Air Force and overruling "men of little vision."

The New York Governor rapped the administration, saying it was permitting the nation to appear so weak "that dictators feel our soldiers can be pushed around and shot in the back."

"Our national government is warning us in the gravest terms of war-like conditions," the presidential aspirant said in an address prepared for delivery at the armory. "Strange submarines are reported by the government off Alaska, off the Atlantic coast, and off the shores of California. The Russians have been threatening to throw us out or bully us out of Berlin.

"Under all these conditions our government should be doing something to halt the tide. The fact is that our national administration has made almost every possible blunder and we ought to get rid of it at the first possible moment."

Churchill Urges Europe Assembly, Then Federation

Declares Hatreds Must Be Forgotten

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, May 7—(AP)—Winston Churchill today urged immediate formation of a united European assembly and asked European nations to sacrifice some measure of national sovereignty to permit eventual establishment of a federation. He envisaged this federation as part of a larger world government based on the main grouping of mankind.

Britains wartime prime minister addressed 600 members of a 22-national "Congress of Europe" in a city decorated with a new flag for the proposed European federation. The flag,a large red E on a white background, was designed by Duncan Sandys, son-in-law of Churchill.

The forum was held in the tulip-decorated Hall of Knights, meeting place of the Dutch Senate.

National hatreds of the past must be forgotten so the continent can live in peace, Churchill said. He described the movement for European unity as one of peoples and not of political parties.

"We aim at the eventual participation of all peoples throughout the continent whose society and way of life are not in discord with the charter of human rights and sincere expression of free democracy,"Churchill said. "We welcome any country where the people own the government. And not the government the people."

The delegates unanimously adopted a resolution stating that the objectives of the congress will not be attained until "all Europe is united and organized." Fraternal greetings were addressed to all the peoples of Europe.

Churchill did not elaborate on his call for the establishment of a European assembly. However, the delegates from 22 nations attending the forum have before them a resolution urging the establishment of such a body. Until elections could be held, each parliament of Europe should appoint representatives to the assembly.

The assembly would advise an emergency council. The latter body would have almost super-governmental powers. It would be charged with directing joint action for economic recovery and military defense. The council also would plan the federation of Europe. Also before the forum is a resolution for creation of a supreme tribunal to protect fundamental democratic rights.

Denying that such a council would conflict with the United Nations, Churchill reiterated his belief that a body of that type "was a subordinate but necessary part of the world organization."

Pittsburgh Hotel Fire Brought Under Control

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (AP)—A fire atop the 25-story Pittsburger Hotel tonight was brought under control after causing slight damage.

None of the nearly 500 guests in the hotel were ordered from their rooms. Smoke, however, filtered through corridors on top floors and also in elevator shafts.

Within half an hour after the alarm was sounded Deputy Fire Chief John Moroney announced the fire was under control. He said it started in the grease duct of a ventilator fan leading from the hotel's incinerator.

Coal Production Would Stop Soon After Rail Tieup

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—A shutdown of the nation's railroads would bring an almost immediate closing of most of the country's coal mines, John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association, said tonight.

Mines are dependent upon a day to day flow of cars, Battle explained. If no empties are moved in after Monday, he said, "the mines will go down almost immediately."

While some coal is handled by truck, Battle said, the amount so far as the country as a whole is concerned, is negligible.

Opposition Greets Denham's Ruling

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Robert N. Denham, chief counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, told Congress today the NLRB has jurisdiction over labor relations of virtually every business in the United States.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) promptly commented it is "obvious" Congress should act to prevent such a sweeping extension of federal regulation over business.

Hoffman is chairman of a House Expenditures Subcommittee which is investigating Denham's interpretation of the Taft-Hartley Labor law.

Some other members of the committee, Democratic as well as Republican, voiced surprise and opposition to Denham's ruling.

The NLRB official said that under the Taft-Hartley Act, it is "mandatory" for the board to handle cases involving any business "affecting commerce." (He meant interstate commerce).

"It is a rare case where a business does not affect commerce in some degree, and where it does affect commerce the board has jurisdiction," Denham said.

"I can conceive of very few businesses over which we do not have at least technical jurisdiction."

Pressed by Hoffman to cite a specific case of a business which would be exempt from coverage, Denham hesitated, then said:

"Well, a farmer who sold milk locally wouldn't be affected."

But he said that "even a bertender in a tavern in South Carolina who sells beer made in Milwaukee has an affect on commerce and so comes within our jurisdiction."

Head Of Charleston, S. C., Club Is Fatally Stabbed

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 7 (AP)—Robert New, 28, president of this city's Wallace-for-President Club and port agent for the National Maritime Union, was fatally stabbed today.

Detective Herman R. Berkman said New was stabbed at the union headquarters during a fight and died as doctors administered plasma.

Berkman reported that Rudolph Sirrio, 49, of the seaman's home, was being held without charges in connection with the case.

Urge Arms For Jews

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — Thirty-six Republican congressmen jointly urged today that the United States permit shipment of arms to Palestine Jews.

Rail Customers Organize Their Strike Defenses

Housewives Wonder; Car Pools Expanded

CHICAGO, May 7 (AP) — The nation's railroad customers, from industry to individuals, were marshaling their defenses today against the threatened rail strike.

Truck and air freight reservations were in great demand. Commuters hurried to join car pools. Spoiling of millions of dollars worth of produce and other crops was threatened.

Housewives wondered how their dinner tables would be affected if the strike is called Tuesday as threatened. Some workers were given layoff notices, to take effect if the strike comes off.

Six railroads already have issued embargo orders on handling of any new shipments of perishables poultry or livestock, and at least 54 others said they would put similar orders into operation over the week end.

Pennsy To Suspend Operations

Several railroads notified employes of impending layoffs or curtailments of service should the strike go through. The Great Northern Railway, with headquarters in St. Paul, said it would lay off "a large percentage" of employes "representing practically every classification of work."

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced in New York that its entire train, shop and track operations will be suspended if the strike is called. A railroad spokesman said most of its offices will close also.

Instead of setting a general embargo deadline, some railroads have instructed their agents to continue accepting perishables only where delivery before the strike deadline is assured.

At Presque Isle, Me., all potatoes shipments out of Aroostook County were cancelled today by the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad, effective "after Saturday's freight." If the strike comes, potato industry spokesmen said, between 2,000 and 3,000 carloads will have to be moved by boat or diverted to starch or alcohol.

At Cincinnati, Leslie O. Boles, superintendent of the Railway Mail Service's Fifth Division, said "plans are all ready and can be put in operation in an hour's time" for emergency mail service.

TROOPS WILL BE FLOWN TO ALASKA TO FILL OUT UNDERMANNED UNITS

McCHORD FIELD, Wash., May 7 —(AP)—Movement of 500 troops to Alaska by plane to fill out undermanned units was announced by the Air Force today.

Capt. Walter W. Weir, assistant public relations officer here, called it an "emergency" transfer, but made clear that it was merely to replace men who had been moved south from Alaska posts.

Weir said the men, among 2,100 destined to move to Alaska, had been awaiting ship transportation at Seattle's Fort Lawton.

The Seattle Port of Embarkation said Air Force officials there described the air movement as "an expedient method of alleviating the pressing shortages of Air Force manpower throughout the Alaska Air Command." The statement said the latter command requested the mass flights.

A McChord Field officer first announced the "emergency" transfer, but without explanation.

Joke's Over

Silent Barbers Are Scared By Law, Congressman Says

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Ever since there have been barbers, there have been jokes about barbers.

You know: The man in the white coat who bends your ear about politics as he applies the clippers where you don't want them. The barber who wants to sell you every bottle of stinkum on his shelves.

It's a legend that goes way back to Roman times. Cicero, the books say, was asked by his barber how he wanted his hair cut. "In silence," the great man replied.

Well, the joke's over.

Your barber doesn't dare try to sell you hair tonic these days, says Rep. Curtis (R-Neb). In fact, the poor guy hardly dares venture an opinion about Russia, or the Brooklyn Dodgers, or Lana Turner.

He's scared to death!

"If a barber wants to sell a bottle or two of hair tonic, he must sign a certificate that scares him to death," Curtis informed the House.

He produced the certificate, too. It's put out by the people who sell barber supplies and it tells the barber what he's up against in the matter of federal taxes:

A $10,000 fine or five years in jail or both if he cracks open a bottle of hair tonic which he bought for resale.

The barbers, said Curtis, are in despair: "They just throw up their hands and cannot operate under such a law. They do not sell at retail . . ."

Curtis has a bill to remedy this. It would take away the 20 per cent federal tax on bulk cosmetics used in barber and beauty shops.

Cairo Is Answer

$20,000 Radio Jackpot Is Won By Oregon Housewife

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (INS)—Mrs. Ward S. George, attractive 32-year-old housewife of Lebanon, Ore., tonight won $20,000 in prizes for correctly answering "Cairo, Egypt" to the eight-week-old riddle on the "People Are Funny" radio show.

The winner, wife of a disabled veteran, wouldn't reveal how she concluded that Cairo, Egypt, was the jackpot winner, but she did admit that she listened to the radio.

Last night the staff of the International News Service Bureau in Los Angeles wrote a story in which they said "Cairo, Egypt" was the answer to the riddle.

The I.N.S. tip was printed and broadcast for what it was worth.

Prizes include a three-bedroom home, a new automobile, a $2,000 lot, a job in Southern California and others.

For eight weeks radio listeners were taunted with this riddle:

"Big Chief Windbag, gloomy and gay
"I'm one over other that lie in decay.
"Where may I be found? Upon low ground—
"That's all, that's all I will say."

The I.N.S. night staff figured that with "30-30" meaning "that's all" in newspaper jargon, Cairo was the answer because the 30th meridian and the 30th parallel cross at Cairo.

Mrs. George was flown to Hollywood to appear on the program.

Bruce Becomes Aide To Harriman

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — David K. E. Bruce became an assistant to W. Averell Harriman, special ambassador to Western Europe, today shortly after formally resigning as Assistant Secretary of Commerce.

Harriman, former Secretary of Commerce, is now roving ambassador for the European recovery program.

Bruce, whose resignation was accepted today by President Truman, probably will be in charge of setting up a Paris office for the Economic Co-operation Administration, which is handling the recovery program.

Meanwhile Howard Bruce, Baltimore industrialist and cousin of David Bruce, took the oath of office as deputy administrator of the ECA.

The 69-year old Maryland Democrat was sworn in by Associate Justice Bennett Champ Clark, of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Howard Bruce's appointment rounded out the high command assembled by ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to administer the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program.

Harriman attended the ceremony. He will leave for Paris Sunday in a "get-acquainted" visit to the site of ECA's overseas headquarters.

Earlier, Administrator Hoffman announced that two additional countries, Sweden and Luxenbourg, have qualified for full recovery assistance by filing "letters of intent" with the State Department.

Hoffman also announced the allocation of United States financed shipments to four European countries, having a total value of $4,010,019.

the first conference. Johnston told hour and a half with Mr. Steelman, exploring the situation."

Before their conference got started, however, Attorney General Clark told reporters the President has legal power to seize the roads if he chooses to do so.

Other high advisers of the President said, however, that he would consider seizure only as a last resort—if all settlement efforts collapse.

Mr. Truman went over the situation with his Cabinet at an hour-long meeting, without any evidence that any conclusions were reached.

The President said yesterday he has done and is doing everything possible under the law to avert the walkout.

Rail Customers

In event of a rail strike, he said, the Postmaster - General will restrict out of city mail to first class matter of 16 ounces or less. The delivery plans, he said, contemplate use of Army trucks and transport planes.

R. W. Dobbins, general superintendent of the Railway Mail Service's Sixth Division at Chicago, said preparations were made for emergency mail delivery and pick-ups within his division. He added, however, he had no information on how mail would be delivered to his division from outside.

Livestock shipments to major Midwest markets were heavier than expected today. Farmers apparently were trying to beat the strike or rail embargo deadlines. Prices dropped when buyers backed away from orders because of the strike threat.

War In Europe Officially Ended Three Years Ago

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP) — Tomorrow will mark the third anniversary of the official end of the fighting in Europe.

A statement of unconditional surrender was signed by German military leaders on May 7, 1945, at Rheims, France.

An act of surrender, embodying virtually the same provisions, was signed in Berlin May 8, 1945. The May 8 date was officially designated as "V-E" Day.

Netherlands Netmen Eliminate Portugal

THE HAGUE, May 7. (AP)—The Netherlands led the way into the third round of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis eliminations today with a doubles victory which clinched a second-round triumph over Portugal.

Dr. Hans Van Swol and Ivo Rinkel of the Netherlands defeated Portugal's Eduardo Ricciardi and Jose Da Silva, 6-1, 6-0, 6-3, in the lone doubles match of the five-match series.

Tomorrow's two remaining singles matches, now a mere formality, will send Van Swol against Ricciardi and Robby Van Meegeren of the Netherlands against Jose Roquette of Portugal. The Dutch stars won the first two singles tests yesterday.

Supporters of Wallace, third party presidential candidate, are circulating petitions to place the Progressive Party's presidential electors on the state's general election ballot.

Towel-In-Stomach Suit Is Dismissed

BALTIMORE, May 7 (AP) — A $100,000 damage suit against the United States government, brought by a pensioned Army veteran who said military doctors left a towel in his stomach, was dismissed today by Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut.

The judge agreed that the 18-by-30-inch towel was left in the abdomen of the veteran, 50-year-old Arthur K. Jefferson, Joppa, Md., but held that Jefferson could not sue the government.

Jefferson filed the suit under the recently-enacted Federal Tort Claims Act, waiving immunity of the United States from damage suits by private persons.

Judge Chesnut ruled that "it was not the intention of Congress in passing the x x x act to include those (suits) by former soldiers for service-connected disabilities for which there was already existing a large body of federal legislation."

Calling the case "unusual on the facts and novel as to the law," the judge held that the exception of ex-soldiers from the claims act is implied.

Jefferson, a former sergeant, contended he suffered total and permanent injuries because of the towel left inside him during a gall bladder operation at Fort Belvoir, Va., in 1945.

He said the towel, marked "U. S. Medical Department," was discovered by physicians at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore after he got out of the Army.

Ching Takes Advisor Role In Chrysler Controversy

DETROIT, May 7. (AP)—The head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, in town by coincidence, took an advisory role today in the threatened Chrysler strike.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the agency, arranged his routine visit here from Washington more than a month ago. But his arrival preceded by only five days what the CIO United Auto Workers call an "inevitable" walkout of 75,000 Chrysler Corporation employes.

Faced with this threat of the automobile industry's first major strike in more than two years, Ching arranged a conference tomorrow with conciliators in the Detroit office who have worked on the red-hot dispute.

He emphasized, however, that he was not "intervening" in the case. He plans to move to Chicago Saturday noon to fulfill several speaking engagements there.

Fugitive Czechs Land In U. S. Zone Of Germany

MUNICH, Germany, May 7—(AP)—Two planes carrying fugitive Czechoslovaks, one a girl who held her pearl-handled pistol at the head of the pilot, have landed in the American zone of Germany, it was disclosed today.

In one case the passengers on a Czech commercial airliner shanghaied the pilot and radio operator.

Calvert County "Slot" Campaign Fizzles Out

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md., May 7 (AP) — A campaign against slot machines in Calvert County fizzled out today when the state dropped gambling charges against some 40 store and tavern operators.

The action was taken after a Circuit Court jury returned a "not guilty" verdict against the second defendant to go on trial.

State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell decided there was little chance of obtaining convictions against any of the others who had been indicted and asked the court's permission to drop the cases.

The furore started last November when the three judges of Maryland's Seventh Judicial Circuit directed the county grand jury to "investigate thoroughly the unscrupulous activities of gambling interests."

Bruce Becomes Aide To Harriman

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP) — David K. E. Bruce became an assistant to W. Averell Harriman, special ambassador to Western Europe, today shortly after formally resigning as Assistant Secretary of Commerce.

Harriman, former Secretary of Commerce, is now roving ambassador for the European recovery program.

Bruce, whose resignation was accepted today by President Truman, probably will be in charge of setting up a Paris office for the Economic Co-operation Administration, which is handling the recovery program.

Meanwhile Howard Bruce, Baltimore industrialist and cousin of David Bruce, took the oath of office as deputy administrator of the ECA.

The 69-year old Maryland Democrat was sworn in by Associate Justice Bennett Champ Clark, of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Howard Bruce's appointment rounded out the high command assembled by ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman to administer the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program.

Harriman attended the ceremony. He will leave for Paris Sunday in a "get-acquainted" visit to the site of ECA's overseas headquarters.

Earlier, Administrator Hoffman announced that two additional countries, Sweden and Luxenbourg, have qualified for full recovery assistance by filing "letters of intent" with the State Department.

Hoffman also announced the allocation of United States financed shipments to four European countries, having a total value of $4,010,-019.

the first conference. Johnston told hour and a half with Mr. Steelman, exploring the situation."

Before their conference got started, however, Attorney General Clark told reporters the President has legal power to seize the roads if he chooses to do so.

Other high advisers of the President said, however, that he would consider seizure only as a last resort—if all settlement efforts collapse.

Mr. Truman went over the situation with his Cabinet at an hour-long meeting, without any evidence that any conclusions were reached.

The President said yesterday he has done and is doing everything possible under the law to avert the walkout.

Rail Customers

In event of a rail strike, he said, the Postmaster - General will restrict out of city mail to first class matter of 16 ounces or less. The delivery plans, he said, contemplate use of Army trucks and transport planes.

R. W. Dobbins, general superintendent of the Railway Mail Service's Sixth Division at Chicago, said preparations were made for emergency mail delivery and pick-ups within his division. He added, however, he had no information on how mail would be delivered to his division from outside.

Livestock shipments to major Midwest markets were heavier than expected today. Farmers apparently were trying to beat the strike or rail embargo deadlines. Prices dropped when buyers backed away from orders because of the strike threat.

Towel-In-Stomach Suit Is Dismissed

BALTIMORE, May 7 (AP) — A $100,000 damage suit against the United States government, brought by a pensioned Army veteran who said military doctors left a towel in his stomach, was dismissed today by Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut.

The judge agreed that the 18-by-30-inch towel was left in the abdomen of the veteran, 50-year-old Arthur K. Jefferson, Joppa, Md., but held that Jefferson could not sue the government.

Jefferson filed the suit under the recently-enacted Federal Tort Claims Act, waiving immunity of the United States from damage suits by private persons.

Judge Chesnut ruled that "it was not the intention of Congress in passing the x x x act to include those (suits) by former soldiers for service-connected disabilities for which there was already existing a large body of federal legislation."

Calling the case "unusual on the facts and novel as to the law," the judge held that the exception of ex-soldiers from the claims act is implied.

Jefferson, a former sergeant, contended he suffered total and permanent injuries because of the towel left inside him during a gall bladder operation at Fort Belvoir, Va., in 1945.

He said the towel, marked "U. S. Medical Department," was discovered by physicians at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore after he got out of the Army.

Ching Takes Advisor Role In Chrysler Controversy

DETROIT, May 7. (AP)—The head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, in town by coincidence, took an advisory role today in the threatened Chrysler strike.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the agency, arranged his routine visit here from Washington more than a month ago. But his arrival preceded by only five days what the CIO United Auto Workers call an "inevitable" walkout of 75,000 Chrysler Corporation employes.

Faced with this threat of the automobile industry's first major strike in more than two years, Ching arranged a conference tomorrow with conciliators in the Detroit office who have worked on the red-hot dispute.

He emphasized, however, that he was not "intervening" in the case. He plans to move to Chicago Saturday noon to fulfill several speaking engagements there.

Calvert County "Slot" Campaign Fizzles Out

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md., May 7 (AP) — A campaign against slot machines in Calvert County fizzled out today when the state dropped gambling charges against some 40 store and tavern operators.

The action was taken after a Circuit Court jury returned a "not guilty" verdict against the second defendant to go on trial.

State's Attorney Arthur W. Dowell decided there was little chance of obtaining convictions against any of the others who had been indicted and asked the court's permission to drop the cases.

The furore started last November when the three judges of Maryland's Seventh Judicial Circuit directed the county grand jury to "investigate thoroughly the unscrupulous activities of gambling interests."

"All of the Non-Operating Organizations accepted the award of an Arbitration Board in September 1947, for an increase of 15½ cents per hour, and the conductors and trainmen subsequently accepted a similar increase and disposed of, in negotiations with the railroads, their request with respect to rules. Representatives of the engineers and firemen have refused a comparable settlement, although they represent only about 10 per cent of the total number of employes on the railroads.

"If the threatened strike takes place, we will be obligated to furlough many of our employes. The small net earnings of our company during the first three months of this year will be wiped out. The action upon the part of the representatives of the engineers and firemen constitutes an inexcusable disregard of the orderly handling of such matters and an absolute disregard of the mutual interests of their fellow employes and their company. Tomorrow's Observance Not For Just A Single Day

Mother's Day, which will be observed tomorrow, the second Sunday in May, was first proclaimed for the state of South Dakota in 1909 by Governor R. S. Vessey, although its origin can be traced back to ancient times. But during the next four years from 1909, state after state fell in line with the idea as though it were a needed amendment to the Constitution long overdue in ratification. It was nationalized by resolution of Congress thirty-four years ago.

According to social studies editor of World Book Encyclopedia, Rhea, the great mother of Gods, was worshipped in Asia Minor many years before the coming of Christianity. But Rhea was a far cry from our modern version of a typical mother. The ancients admired Rhea for her majestic strength, and usually pictured her as traveling in a chariot drawn by lions. Her emblems were the lion, oak and pine tree. The worship of Rhea became a part of the Feast of Hilaria, later celebrated by the Romans on the Ides of March.

With the coming of Christianity, this and many other of the heathen festivals were replaced by church ceremonies. The honoring of Hilaria was replaced by devotion to Mary, who is still called "the Mother of the Church" by Roman Catholics. Some churches observe May as "the month of our Mother."

The pioneers of our modern conception of Mother's Day were the English, who set up a holiday known as Mothering Day. This event occurred in the middle of Lent. On Mothering Day all young men and women who were away from home returned to visit their parents. Many English children had left home to serve as apprentices, and Mothering Day resulted in a great migration of youngsters returning to the old homestead.

Mother's Day was first suggested in the United States by Julia Ward Howe, who wrote that famous Civil War classic "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Julia Ward proposed that we recognize Independence Day as Mother's Day, making it a day of peace. The suggestion apparently never received serious consideration.

Later in 1904, at a convention of the Eagle Lodges at South Bend, Indiana, one of the members proposed that a day be set aside to honor mothers. And this year, the Eagles of Allegany County are marking that occasion by participating in a nationwide ceremony tomorrow. But, the credit for founding Mother's Day falls to a Miss Jarvis of Philadelphia. Miss Jarvis worked many years, traveling thousands of miles, and giving all her time and effort to the adoption of a special day honoring mothers everywhere.

But setting apart a day in her special honor has not changed mother fundamentally from what she was back in 1909, even though now she is likely to use more lipstick, to smoke a cigarette now and then and do other things that would have appalled both father and mother 38 years ago.

Mother doesn't have as many children as the mother of 1909. For better or ill, this fact would tend to give her added hours and days, either for work outside the home or for a greater degree of leisure inside. And because her childrn are fewer, the love and respect which might have been bestowed upon her by a greater number must be multiplied in the hearts and actions of these smaller families.

Mother's Day neither is an occasion for gushing sentment. It is rather an occasion for bespeaking an appreciation that should be expressed in behavior during the entire year.

Recent Hollywood marriage lasted 18 days, but whether because husbands are getting scarce there or for some other reason is not revealed.

Manpower For Army Is Men In Readiness

Universal Military Training is dead, at least for this session of Congress.

The peacetime draft just approved by the House Armed Services Committe would register all men from 18 through 30, and make those from 19 through 25 liable for two years of regular armed service. For boys of 18 no service or training would be provided, at least for the time being.

The Senate has a rather complicated bill which would train 18-year-olds in the regular Army for a year and then put them in the reserve. But both Houses have dropped the original Administration scheme for selective service, coupled with a UMT plan operated as an elaborate and expensive system of isolated training, where pupils wrested from high school would be taught Heaven knows what for six months or more by 100,000 or more officers and men wrested from the regular Army.

The coverage of the House bill in practice would probably be small. Most veterans would be exempt from the draft, and among the 19-year-olds only one in five would be drafted. In fact, most of the men needed to bring our total armed force from 1,384,000 to more than 2,000,000 would be furnished by voluntary enlistment.

President Truman is resigned to the dropping of Universal Military Training for this session, and Secretary Forrestal approves the House bill—though he would prefer the Senate measure. Both recognize that the immediate need of manpower for the armed services is men in readiness.

The $4,000,000,000 that Universal Military Training would have cost can be far better spent for other military needs—planes for example—and that is what has been done by the passage of the bill appropriating $3,233,200,000 to build a 70-group Air Force.

The tourist who plans to do Europe will need a motor car, it is announced. Many who plan to tour this country are looking up motor car bootleggers, too.

Whatda You Know!

Confusion spurted ahead the other day, making wider gains on various fronts than at any time in recent months. On the same day that Secretary Forrestal was begging Congress not to give the Defense Department so much money, Lana Turner and Bob Topping had a wedding supper with "He Loves Me" inscribed in icing on a huge ham and "I Love You" on roast beef.

There are 35,000,000 automobiles in the United States, with the saturation point not reached except on parking space.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Advances Along the Heart Front

Much progress has been made during the last decade in the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. If medical scientists can make as many advances in the next ten years we shall be more than satified. This encouraging aspect counterbalances the fact that one out of every four deaths today is due to a cardiac disorder.

To prevent misunderstanding it must be emphasized that the medicines administered are not curative but afford comfort and prolonged life. The benefits of such agents are not appreciated fully unless we realize that there are no similar drugs available for cancer, poliomyelitis, and the like. In other words, individuals with heart trouble can live for many years and carry on with a minimum of discomfort. Furthermore, the majority are not bothered until after they reach their life expectancy.

Digitalis, the old reliable, has certain disadvantages. Taken by mouth, only 20 per cent is absorbed. When given in full strength, nausea and vomiting may occur; its potency varies; and the liquid form becomes stronger as the bottle stands on the shelf. Newer preparations have been developed, many of which are absorbed completely, and it is easier for the physician to predict how much his patient is actually utilizing. Moreover, less is required; consequently, gastrointestinal irritability is minimized. Products for injection directly into the blood are also available for emergency use. Should dropsy develop, we have chemicals to stimulate the kidneys so that water in the tissues can be withdrawn. The chemistry of edema is now better understood; we know that the sodium fraction of table salt encourages puffiness and, by eliminating salt and employing an acid-ash diet, fluid is less likely to accumulate.

In the past, individuals with leakage of the heart were always in danger of encountering subacute endocarditis. At one time, this form of blood poisoning was invariably fatal but the advent of penicillin changed the outlook. Propylthiouracil has also been a lifesaver when the "ticker" is being damaged by an overactive thyroid. Heparin and dicumarol overcome certain fatal complications among victims of coronary thrombosis.

The surgeons have also been active. Some types of congenital heart lesions can now be rectified. In intractable angina pectoris, an operation has been devised to improve the blood supply to the heart. Reports on the surgical treatment of valvular defects have appeared but they are so few and far between that the maneuver can hardly be recommended at this time. It is conceivable that in the future a procedure will be worked out in which the heart can be opened and corrections made. The brain is the stumbling block at present because this structure cannot survive without blood for more than a minute or two. An artificial device would be necessary to furnish its circulation while the pumping apparatus was laid up for repairs.

Improvements in the electrocardiograph apparatus make diagnosis more acurate, especially in coronary thrombosis. Long catheters can be inserted into the veins and pushed into the heart itself for accurate measurements of the oxygen content of the blood within are auricles. This procedure, along with special X-ray studies, will prove helpful in diagnosising congenital heart disease, especially when surgery is contemplated.

FLESHY HIPS

E. O. writes: Recently I gained quite a bit of weight in my hips. I have been told that using a rolling pin would melt the fat. Could I lose weight in this way?

Reply

Once the middle age spread sets in, I doubt that the rolling pin would prove effective. If the excess flesh is not due to a glanddular disturbance, special exercises may help. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a list of such maneuvers.

INTEMPERATE HABIT

F. A. writes: Is it harmful to have 4 cocktails before dinner every night?

Reply

Yes, as a steady diet. But the final answer depends upon whether this amount of alcohol is creating a problem drinker.

PILLOW

E. K. writes: Why is it better for a baby to sleep without a pillow?

Reply

This practice is thought to improve posture and decrease the possibility of smothering.

NEEDS WASHING

Mrs. B. F. writes: Why is it that unless I wash my hair every week it begins to smell rancid?

Reply

Missing Parts

Mrs. T. R. writes: Can a woman with no tubes become pregnant?

Reply

No because these structures are necessary in order that the ovum may reach the uterus.

Hardened Liver

Mrs. C. writes: A sick friend has just been told he has hardening of the liver. Will you explain what this is?

Reply

British Suppress War Documents On Arab-Nazi Intrigue; King Farouk Of Egypt Furnished War Secrets To Rommel; Tempers Flare During Housing Battle

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 7—One of the richest war prizes captured from the Germans was a series of Nazi documents on Hitler's secret deals. These gave a gold mine of information on Nazi intrigue all over the world and should help the American people to avoid war in the future.

Many of these documents have now been made public. But significantly, highly illuminating German secrets pertaining to the Arabs so far have not. They are especially enlightening today in view of the Palestine crisis and the Arab claim that they deserve world sympathy.

British diplomats, this columnist is informed, were bitter when they first learned of Arab-Nazi intrigue at a time when the British were fighting with their backs to the wall near Suez. But despite British resentment, the texts of the Nazi messages have not been made public, even though captured at the expense of Anglo-American blood.

British diplomats have admitted that pressure from Washington is the reason for suppressing these documents. The U. S. Defense Department—which means Forrestal—plus American oil are not anxious to embarrass the Arab leaders. That apparently is why the American public does not know that King Farouk of Egypt furnished war secrets to Field Marshal Rommel when the British had their backs to the wall in Egypt.

It also remains a top secret that King Farouk corresponded with Hitler during the war and that Rachid el Gailani, former Minister-President of Iraq, received bribes from the Nazis, and that King Ibn Saud also dickered with Hitler.

However, this column has been able to obtain copies of some of the secret Arab-Nazi correspondence. Here is one letter dated March 24, 1943, in which King Farouk of Egypt informed German Ambassador Ettel that he was "still hoping for an Axis victory." The letter from Ambassador Ettel to Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop follows:

"Secret State Matter

"Berlin, March 24, 1943

"Ambassador Ettel

"The confidential agent who transmitted a message from the Reich to King Farouk, has, in the meantime, returned from Egypt. During his stay he had two lengthy conversations with King Farouk. In these conversations the King gratefully acknowledged the security measures which the Reich had taken for his person and the manner in which this delicate question has been handled. King Farouk instructed the confidential agent to convey the King's gratitude to the Foreign Minister of the Reich.

"The King also informed the confidential agent that, as in the past, he was still hoping for an Axis victory. Specifically, the King declared that the rumors which were being circulated about a rapprochement between him and the democracies, were nothing else but a matter of political expediency and shrewdness, necessary for the then prevailing circumstances. The King also expressed his thanks for the dilatory way in which the matter of Prince Mansur's departure from Istanboul had been handled. Under the present circumstances, the King no longer objected to the Prince going to Italy or Germany.

"Finally, the King instructed the confidential agent to convey his best wishes to the Mufti of Jerusalem and to all those who work with him for the success and the victory of the Axis.

"Submitted to the Foreign Minister of the Reich.

Sgd, Ettel"

Real Estate Lobby

For sheer effrontery, last week's battle over the Cain housing bill—a half-baked measure to guarantee the profits of private builders, while ignoring the vital need for low-cost public housing and slum clearance—tops anything the real estate lobby has pulled in recent times.

Senator Harry P. Cain, Republican, of Washington, elected as an out-and-out real estate champion, certainly lived up to the expectation of his sponsors. He waited until Senators Ralph Flanders of Vermont, John Sparkman of Alabama, Bob Taft of Ohio and other proponents of public housing were absent from town before asking Senate approval of the real estate bonanza.

Meantime, House leaders were keeping their own chamber in recess, standing by to pass the bill once the Senate had acted. Meantime, also sitting big as life on the Senate floor were those tireless pals of the real estate lobby, Representatives Jesse Wolcott of Michigan and Ralph Gamble of New York. House majority leader Charles Halleck of Indiana also sat eagerly on a sofa at the edge of the Senate floor.

These three musketeers occasionally huddled with young Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, another friend of the lobby.

However, when alert Senators William Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, and Irving Ives of New York, Republican, finally blocked action until foes of the legislation could be present to vote, Halleck's face blazed with anger.

As he left the Senate, muttering with rage, a Senator called after him: "Well, I guess you boys took a licking."

Halleck turned, rubbed his nose like a prize-fighter.

"Yeah, maybe we did, but just wait!" barked the Hoosier Congressman.

Note—House leaders plan to block the Taft-Ellender-Wagner low-cost housing bill in Congressman Wolcott's Banking and Currency Committee. Although it passed the Senate, the bill is already gathering dust in Wolcott's pigeonhole.

Under The Dome

Detroit police questioned former United Auto Workers union president R. J. Thomas for two hours last week on the shooting of Walter Reuther. Nothing developed. Thomas and Reuther were rivals for the auto workers' presidency. Reuther himself has been slow talking to the police. . . . Democratic Chairman Howard McGrath has asked George Allen, Truman's former court jester, to replace Gael Sullivan as treasurer and executive director of the Democratic National Committee. If Allen takes the job it will put one insurance firm in control of the finances of both political parties. Allen's insurance business partner, James S. Kemper, is treasurer of the Republican party. He also heads Lumbermen's Insurance plus a dozen other companies and is one of the most isolationist members of the GOP. . . . President Truman has told friends he plans to appoint ex-Congressman Ray McKeogh of Chicago Chairman of the Maritime Commission—if he can get Vice Adm. William W. Smith, a Republican, to resign. . . . Lee Pressman, ex-CIO general counsel, may become the third-party candidate for Congress from Brooklyn.

Ohio Footnotes

As usual in such cases, the immediate results of the Ohio primary are pleasingly obvious. Senator Robert A. Taft has not vastly improved his Presidential prospects, but he has at least rescued himself from disaster. Governor Harold E. Stassen has experienced no disastrous setback, but his bandwagon is not rolling any faster either. A law of political motion is that bandwagons must roll faster and faster in order to be really safe vehicles. And thus, while Stassen has not experienced a setback in Ohio, he has at least suffered a temporary check.

Behind these obvious conclusions, however, the wiseacres read in the Ohio results certain deeper meanings that are a little more complex and rather more interesting. Here, curiously enough, there is a rag of silver lining for Stassen's disappointment in Ohio.

After Ohio, of course, Stassen's whole future depends on the outcome in Oregon. If he does not make a superior showing there, the Republican professionals, who would like nothing better, will be able to read him out of the race. On the other hand, if he fulfills the always fallible experts' prophecies that he will sweep the Oregon primary, he will virtually eliminate Governor Thomas E Dewey as a serious contender. And since the Ohio results have not really put Senator Taft back in the running, the elimination of Dewey will shift the Stassen bandwagon back into high year again.

In this event, the rag of silver lining which Ohio has for Stassen will become very useful indeed. For the Ohio primary has had unexpected psychological effect, It has caused Senator Taft, always a dogged fighter, to stop thinking about beating Stassen and to start thinking again about winning for himself. More important still, it has revived the failing spirits of the Old Guard Republicans, who are Senator Taft's real backers.

Three days ago, the Old Guardsmen were nerving themselves for the dreadful sacrifices—preparing, in fact, to get behind the least unbearable of the alternatives to Stassen, who are, of course, Governor Dewey and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. Now after Ohio, men like Colonel Robert R. McCormick are again beginning to think they can nominate a candidate of their own kidney—either Senator Taft, or Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin. The odds are approximately 10 to one that the Old Guard is wrong. But the fact of the real odds does not alter the fact of the Old Guard attitude.

This attitude, in turn, will become mightily important if Dewey is licked in Oregon. For then, it will again be necessary to discuss stop-Stassen combinations. But the Republican Old Guard will say that their man, Taft, has done better that the brisk Dewey; they will therefore demand that the stop-Stassen combination be formed on their terms. Unfortunately, the bulk of Dewey's strength cannot be swung behind a candidate of the Taft-Martin type. In short, Ohio has made it considerably harder to organize a stop-Stassen movement, if and when such a movement becomes necessary and desirable.

Besides this rag of silver lining for Stassen, Ohio also is considered by the wiseacres to magnify the threat to Stassen from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. The likelihood of deadlock at Philadelphia is increased; and this means a corresponding increase in the likelihood of a draft of Senator Vandenberg.

Stassen himself has plainly acknowledged that he regards Senator Vandenberg as a much more serious rival than either Senator Taft or Governor Dewey. Whenever he has had the chance—as during meetings with Eastern states leaders last week—Stassen has gone out of his way to praise the Michigan Senator to the skies. In part, the motive is the sincere admiration which Vandenberg's services have evoked in all reasonably modern-minded Republicans. But there is also another motive, as one cynical politico remarked: "Stassen sounds as though he were running Van for President of the world. And I dare say he'd rather see Van become a candidate for President of the world than a candidate for President of the United States."

Taking it over-all, in short, the most probable Republican nominees as of today, are Vandenberg, Stassen or Dewey, with Dewey and Stassen both in danger of being eliminated in Oregon. Stassen for his part seems supremely confident that Oregon is in the bag. Dewey has altered all his plans to campaign there for over two weeks. But Stassen has overruled his own political staff, who were panicked by the Ohio outcome into urging a long barn-storming effort on the West coast, and will adhere to his original plan of campaigning in Oregon for about a week only.

If Stassen's confidence proves well-founded, he will have only one last hurdle to surmount after Oregon. But it will be a very high hurdle. The truth is that a surprising number of Stassenites would go over to Vandenberg, im the Senator began to be seriously considered by the convention at Philadelphia.

Marshall Indicates Talks With Russia May Be Resumed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Sometimes government publicity or propaganda is as confusing as that issued from private sources. The public, for example, has just been given a carefully prepared statement by secretary of State Marshall on why the veto power should not be abandoned in the United Nations and why the recent proposals to amend the charter should not be pressed.

But General Marshall says one thing and the other agencies of the government, as well as Congress, say quite another. Thus, in his prepared statement, the Secretary of State made this very commendable comment:

"The factor of military strength is of immediate and major importance in the present world situation; but it is not the element which will be paramount in the long run. The emphasis often placed solely on the military aspects of world affairs does a disservice to the cause of peace. The more that present differences are talked about and treated exclusively as a military problem, the more they tend to become so."

Boldness of Statement Amazes

One can only be amazed at the boldness and frankness of this declaration. Yet in the very same day's news comes word of the passage by Congress of billions of dollars for a 70-group air force. In fact, the emphasis from the executive agencies of the Government on the need for military force has been accompanied by no camouflaged reasons—the officials who testified before Congress pointed openly to the menace of Russian aggression as the basis for military rearmament.

When a federal budget is going out of balance just to build up military strength, it must be a source of wonder that the Secretary of State could speak of emphasis on the military aspects as doing a "disservice to the cause of peace" without realizing that the Congress has been impelled by executive recommendations in placing such emphasis on the military aspects.

But this is not all. In his own prepared statement, Secretary Marshall virtually recommended that the United States join in a military alliance to emphasize military strength. He said:

"The United States government is now considering the steps necessary to bring the national military establishment to the minimum level necessary to restore the balance of power relationships required for international security."

Here is perhaps the most important pronouncement on foreign policy made since the close of World War II. It is, in effect, an announcement that, despite the pleas of the late President Wilson against the "balance of power" and despite the arguments of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull in favor of "collective security," the United States government today abandons collective security as impractical and endorses the restoration of the "Balance of power" idea in the world.

It is true this alternative to collective security has been in a sense forced by the refusal of Russia to participate in collective security plans. But at the same moment that Secretary Marshall refuses to sanction amendments to the charter to promote the cause of collective security, he announces that within the United Nations a military alliance against Russia is being formed. He declares:

"The United States is acutely aware that the return of a sense of security to the free nations of the world is essential for the promotion of conditions under which the United Nations can function. The necessary steps for self protection against aggression can be taken within the charter of the United Nations. The charter recognizes in Article 51 the right of individual and collective self defense against armed attack until the Security Council has taken measures necessary to preserve peace and security."

More Emphasis On Military

Here is more emphasis on "military aspects." If Russia will not play ball and insists on her veto in the security Council and also commits acts of aggression, the "balance of power" will be used to coerce her into agreement.

This is a realistic concept that has long been advocated by those who feel that physical force is the "only language the Russians can understand." But there are many who have grave doubts whether this isn't really the way to bring on war. Certainly there is much merit in Secretary Marshall's naive comment that "the factor of military strength . . . is not the element which will be paramount in the long run."

This must mean that somewhere and somehow a resumption of talks between Russia and the United States leading toward a removal of mutual distrust and suspicions is inevitable.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Make Mine Freedom

I SAW a movie short, done after the style of Walt Disney, which is humorous, colorful, bright and yet explains why the United States is an excellent place in which to live—in fact a better place than these proletarian heavens that are so widely advertised by the seekers of utopias. The short is called "Make Mine Freedom" and it was prepared by the John Sutherland Productions, Inc.

The reasons why I like this short so much and call it to your attention so that if your movie house shows it, you will go to see it, is that it is the first of its kind that is wholly affirmative. It does not apologize for the American civilization; it rather challenges anyone to produce a better one. And while the nine-minute short is full of humor, it nevertheless hits the nail squarely on the head. In this country, we have freedom, and that is worth more than anything else in all this world.

Freedom is fast disappearing in most places. It could disappear here. The other day I was reading the testimony of my friend, Frank Waldrop, of the Washington Times - Herald. Frank is what might be called a zealous barger-inner. He likes to fight for freedom and therefore he went down to lay the FCC low, because the FCC has a way of seeking to limit freedom on the air by holding that those who own radio stations must not use them to express an editorial opinion.

It is all right for a movie actor to interrupt a comedy to read an editorial which his gag-writer prepared on what is wright and wrong.

It is all right for a so-called commentator to belabor the public with irresponsible editorial opinion that no newspaper in this country would publish. It is all right for an atheist or a Communist or a Republican, Democrat, or Catholic, Protestant or Jew to use radio time to express private opinions for public consumption.

But not the owner of the station. By becoming a licensee of the FCC, he has lost his inalienable right to express his mind. I suppose that it would be correct for him to go to somebody else's station to speak his piece, but not on his own.

So Frank Waldrop went down to the FCC and landed this haymaker:

"In the order aforementioned you (FCC) say that 'a truly free radio cannot be used to advocate the causes of the licensee,' and offer in justification the instruction of Congress that you regulate broadcasting 'in the public interest, necessity or convenience.' How does it serve the public interest, necessity or convenience to forbid the broadcaster the right to be an advocate?"

The trouble with Frank is that he is too logical. The next question he might ask is why Wayne Coy and his colleagues on the FCC give wave lengths to the wrong kinds of people and take them away from sound people. That might raise a lot of arguments, but I only want to cite this as an example of how vigilant it is necessary for the American people to be if they do not want to lose their freedom.

And that is why I am advertising this nine-minute short, entitled "Make Mine Freedom," which should be shown in every theater in America. It is propaganda, sure! But good, wholesome comedy, too. And it is the sort of propaganda that parents should take their children to see, because our children need to know beyond doubt that just being an American is a blessing.

And while I am on the movies and invading other columns, I want to announce that next week I shall be telling you about "The Iron Curtain," the Twentieth Century Fox film that will be released on May 12. If I were running my own newspaper, I would place a free advertisement on Page One advocating that every American see this picture. After you have seen it, you will really grasp what the first problem facing the American people is.

It is refreshing to find something to praise in these days of so much ugliness. Good things are too often passed over.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Even though Hankus Wallace got himself a vice-president there seems to be a general disinclination to play second fiddle in a one-man orchestra.

You will notice that neither Stassen, Truman, MacArthur, Douglas nor Dewey have said a one-syllabled grunt about their running mates.

The contest has started to shape up like a shadow on a window shade. Now, I'll tell you why the V. P. is never picked until farmers are hammering on the berry crates.

Every candidate for the V. P. was also in the running for the presidential nomination. That means he has been jobbed, hoss-swapped, side-tracked and short-changed.

So the party commissars wait until closing day at the convention, look over the list of retired firemen and pick the sorest of the bunch. That's the way I heard it.

Tomorrow's Observance Not For Just A Single Day

Mother's Day, which will be observed tomorrow, the second Sunday in May, was first proclaimed for the state of South Dakota in 1909 by Governor R. S. Vessey, although its origin can be traced back to ancient times. But during the next four years from 1909, state after state fell in line with the idea as though it were a needed amendment to the Constitution long overdue in ratification. It was nationalized by resolution of Congress thirty-four years ago.

According to social studies editor of World Book Encyclopedia, Rhea, the great mother of Gods, was worshipped in Asia Minor many years before the coming of Christianity. But Rhea was a far cry from our modern version of a typical mother. The ancients admired Rhea for her majestic strength, and usually pictured her as traveling in a chariot drawn by lions. Her emblems were the lion, oak and pine tree. The worship of Rhea became a part of the Feast of Hilaria, later celebrated by the Romans on the Ides of March.

With the coming of Christianity, this and many other of the heathen festivals were replaced by church ceremonies. The honoring of Hilaria was replaced by devotion to Mary, who is still called "the Mother of the Church" by Roman Catholics. Some churches observe May as "the month of our Mother."

The pioneers of our modern conception of Mother's Day were the English, who set up a holiday known as Mothering Day. This event occurred in the middle of Lent. On Mothering Day all young men and women who were away from home returned to visit their parents. Many English children had left home to serve as apprentices, and Mothering Day resulted in a great migration of youngsters returning to the old homestead.

Mother's Day was first suggested in the United States by Julia Ward Howe, who wrote that famous Civil War classic "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Julia Ward proposed that we recognize Independence Day as Mother's Day, making it a day of peace. The suggestion apparently never received serious consideration.

Later in 1904, at a convention of the Eagle Lodges at South Bend, Indiana, one of the members proposed that a day be set aside to honor mothers. And this year, the Eagles of Allegany County are marking that occasion by participating in a nationwide ceremony tomorrow. But, the credit for founding Mother's Day falls to a Miss Jarvis of Philadelphia. Miss Jarvis worked many years, traveling thousands of miles, and giving all her time and effort to the adoption of a special day honoring mothers everywhere.

But setting apart a day in her special honor has not changed mother fundamentally from what she was back in 1909, even though now she is likely to use more lipstick, to smoke a cigarette now and then and do other things that would have appalled both father and mother 38 years ago.

Mother doesn't have as many children as the mother of 1909. For better or ill, this fact would tend to give her added hours and days, either for work outside the home or for a greater degree of leisure inside. And because her childrn are fewer, the love and respect which might have been bestowed upon her by a greater number must be multiplied in the hearts and actions of these smaller families.

Mother's Day neither is an occasion for gushing sentment. It is rather an occasion for bespeaking an appreciation that should be expressed in behavior during the entire year.

Recent Hollywood marriage lasted 18 days, but whether because husbands are getting scarce there or for some other reason is not revealed.

Manpower For Army Is Men In Readiness

Universal Military Training is dead, at least for this session of Congress.

The peacetime draft just approved by the House Armed Services Committe would register all men from 18 through 30, and make those from 19 through 25 liable for two years of regular armed service. For boys of 18 no service or training would be provided, at least for the time being.

The Senate has a rather complicated bill which would train 18-year-olds in the regular Army for a year and then put them in the reserve. But both Houses have dropped the original Administration scheme for selective service, coupled with a UMT plan operated as an elaborate and expensive system of isolated training, where pupils wrested from high school would be taught Heaven knows what for six months or more by 100,000 or more officers and men wrested from the regular Army.

The coverage of the House bill in practice would probably be small. Most veterans would be exempt from the draft, and among the 19-year-olds only one in five would be drafted. In fact, most of the men needed to bring our total armed force from 1,384,000 to more than 2,000,000 would be furnished by voluntary enlistment.

President Truman is resigned to the dropping of Universal Military Training for this session, and Secretary Forrestal approves the House bill—though he would prefer the Senate measure. Both recognize that the immediate need of manpower for the armed services is men in readiness.

The $4,000,000,000 that Universal Military Training would have cost can be far better spent for other military needs—planes for example—and that is what has been done by the passage of the bill appropriating $3,233,200,000 to build a 70-group Air Force.

On the same day that Secretary Forrestal was begging Congress not to give the Defense Department so much money, Lana Turner and Bob Topping had a wedding supper with "He Loves Me" inscribed in icing on a huge ham and "I Love You" on roast beef.

Moreover, less is required; consequently, gastrointestinal irritability is minimized. Products for injection directly into the blood are also available for emergency use. Should dropsy develop, we have chemicals to stimulate the kidneys so that water in the tissues can be withdrawn. The chemistry of edema is now better understood; we know that the sodium fraction of table salt encourages puffiness and, by eliminating salt and employing an acid-ash diet, fluid is less likely to accumulate.

In the past, individuals with leakage of the heart were always in danger of encountering subacute endocarditis. At one time, this form of blood poisoning was invariably fatal but the advent of penicillin changed the outlook. Propylthiouracil has also been a lifesaver when the "ticker" is being damaged by an overactive thyroid. Heparin and dicumarol overcome certain fatal complications among victims of coronary thrombosis.

The surgeons have also been active. Some types of congenital heart lesions can now be rectified. In intractable angina pectoris, an operation has been devised to improve the blood supply to the heart. Reports on the surgical treatment of valvular defects have appeared but they are so few and far between that the maneuver can hardly be recommended at this time. It is conceivable that in the future a procedure will be worked out in which the heart can be opened and corrections made. The brain is the stumbling block at present because this structure cannot survive without blood for more than a minute or two. An artificial device would be necessary to furnish its circulation while the pumping apparatus was laid up for repairs.

Improvements in the electrocardiograph apparatus make diagnosis more acurate, especially in coronary thrombosis. Long catheters can be inserted into the veins and pushed into the heart itself for accurate measurements of the oxygen content of the blood within are auricles. This procedure, along with special X-ray studies, will prove helpful in diagnosising congenital heart disease, especially when surgery is contemplated.

FLESHY HIPS

E. O. writes: Recently I gained quite a bit of weight in my hips. I have been told that using a rolling pin would melt the fat. Could I lose weight in this way?

Reply

Once the middle age spread sets in, I doubt that the rolling pin would prove effective. If the excess flesh is not due to a glanddular disturbance, special exercises may help. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a list of such maneuvers.

INTEMPERATE HABIT

F. A. writes: Is it harmful to have 4 cocktails before dinner every night?

Reply

Yes, as a steady diet. But the final answer depends upon whether this amount of alcohol is creating a problem drinker.

PILLOW

E. K. writes: Why is it better for a baby to sleep without a pillow?

Reply

This practice is thought to improve posture and decrease the possibility of smothering.

NEEDS WASHING

Mrs. B. F. writes: Why is it that unless I wash my hair every week it begins to smell rancid?

Reply

Missing Parts

Mrs. T. R. writes: Can a woman with no tubes become pregnant?

Reply

No because these structures are necessary in order that the ovum may reach the uterus.

Hardened Liver

Mrs. C. writes: A sick friend has just been told he has hardening of the liver. Will you explain what this is?

Reply

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 7—One of the richest war prizes captured from the Germans was a series of Nazi documents on Hitler's secret deals. These gave a gold mine of information on Nazi intrigue all over the world and should help the American people to avoid war in the future.

Many of these documents have now been made public. But significantly, highly illuminating German secrets pertaining to the Arabs so far have not. They are especially enlightening today in view of the Palestine crisis and the Arab claim that they deserve world sympathy.

British diplomats, this columnist is informed, were bitter when they first learned of Arab-Nazi intrigue at a time when the British were fighting with their backs to the wall near Suez. But despite British resentment, the texts of the Nazi messages have not been made public, even though captured at the expense of Anglo-American blood.

British diplomats have admitted that pressure from Washington is the reason for suppressing these documents. The U. S. Defense Department—which means Forrestal—plus American oil are not anxious to embarrass the Arab leaders. That apparently is why the American public does not know that King Farouk of Egypt furnished war secrets to Field Marshal Rommel when the British had their backs to the wall in Egypt.

It also remains a top secret that King Farouk corresponded with Hitler during the war and that Rachid el Gailani, former Minister-President of Iraq, received bribes from the Nazis, and that King Ibn Saud also dickered with Hitler.

However, this column has been able to obtain copies of some of the secret Arab-Nazi correspondence. Here is one letter dated March 24, 1943, in which King Farouk of Egypt informed German Ambassador Ettel that he was "still hoping for an Axis victory." The letter from Ambassador Ettel to Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop follows:

"Secret State Matter

"Berlin, March 24, 1943

"Ambassador Ettel

"The confidential agent who transmitted a message from the Reich to King Farouk, has, in the meantime, returned from Egypt. During his stay he had two lengthy conversations with King Farouk. In these conversations the King gratefully acknowledged the security measures which the Reich had taken for his person and the manner in which this delicate question has been handled. King Farouk instructed the confidential agent to convey the King's gratitude to the Foreign Minister of the Reich.

"The King also informed the confidential agent that, as in the past, he was still hoping for an Axis victory. Specifically, the King declared that the rumors which were being circulated about a rapprochement between him and the democracies, were nothing else but a matter of political expediency and shrewdness, necessary for the then prevailing circumstances. The King also expressed his thanks for the dilatory way in which the matter of Prince Mansur's departure from Istanboul had been handled. Under the present circumstances, the King no longer objected to the Prince going to Italy or Germany.

"Finally, the King instructed the confidential agent to convey his best wishes to the Mufti of Jerusalem and to all those who work with him for the success and the victory of the Axis.

"Submitted to the Foreign Minister of the Reich.

Sgd, Ettel"

Real Estate Lobby

For sheer effrontery, last week's battle over the Cain housing bill—a half-baked measure to guarantee the profits of private builders, while ignoring the vital need for low-cost public housing and slum clearance—tops anything the real estate lobby has pulled in recent times.

Senator Harry P. Cain, Republican, of Washington, elected as an out-and-out real estate champion, certainly lived up to the expectation of his sponsors. He waited until Senators Ralph Flanders of Vermont, John Sparkman of Alabama, Bob Taft of Ohio and other proponents of public housing were absent from town before asking Senate approval of the real estate bonanza.

Meantime, House leaders were keeping their own chamber in recess, standing by to pass the bill once the Senate had acted. Meantime, also sitting big as life on the Senate floor were those tireless pals of the real estate lobby, Representatives Jesse Wolcott of Michigan and Ralph Gamble of New York. House majority leader Charles Halleck of Indiana also sat eagerly on a sofa at the edge of the Senate floor.

These three musketeers occasionally huddled with young Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, another friend of the lobby.

However, when alert Senators William Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, and Irving Ives of New York, Republican, finally blocked action until foes of the legislation could be present to vote, Halleck's face blazed with anger.

As he left the Senate, muttering with rage, a Senator called after him: "Well, I guess you boys took a licking."

Halleck turned, rubbed his nose like a prize-fighter.

"Yeah, maybe we did, but just wait!" barked the Hoosier Congressman.

Note—House leaders plan to block the Taft-Ellender-Wagner low-cost housing bill in Congressman Wolcott's Banking and Currency Committee. Although it passed the Senate, the bill is already gathering dust in Wolcott's pigeonhole.

Under The Dome

Detroit police questioned former United Auto Workers union president R. J. Thomas for two hours last week on the shooting of Walter Reuther. Nothing developed. Thomas and Reuther were rivals for the auto workers' presidency. Reuther himself has been slow talking to the police. . . . Democratic Chairman Howard McGrath has asked George Allen, Truman's former court jester, to replace Gael Sullivan as treasurer and executive director of the Democratic National Committee. If Allen takes the job it will put one insurance firm in control of the finances of both political parties. Allen's insurance business partner, James S. Kemper, is treasurer of the Republican party. He also heads Lumbermen's Insurance plus a dozen other companies and is one of the most isolationist members of the GOP. . . . President Truman has told friends he plans to appoint ex-Congressman Ray McKeogh of Chicago Chairman of the Maritime Commission—if he can get Vice Adm. William W. Smith, a Republican, to resign. . . . Lee Pressman, ex-CIO general counsel, may become the third-party candidate for Congress from Brooklyn.

MATTER OF FACT

Ohio Footnotes

As usual in such cases, the immediate results of the Ohio primary are pleasingly obvious. Senator Robert A. Taft has not vastly improved his Presidential prospects, but he has at least rescued himself from disaster Governor Harold E. Stassen has experienced no disastrous setback, but his bandwagon is not rolling any faster either. A law of political motion is that bandwagons must roll faster and faster in order to be really safe vehicles. And thus, while Stassen has not experienced a setback in Ohio, he has at least suffered a temporary check.

Behind these obvious conclusions, however, the wiseacres read in the Ohio results certain deeper meanings that are a little more complex and rather more interesting. Here, curiously enough, there is a rag of silver lining for Stassen's disappointment in Ohio.

After Ohio, of course, Stassen's whole future depends on the outsome in Oregon. If he does not make a superior showing there, the Republican professionals, who would like nothing better, will be able to read him out of the race. On the other hand, if he fulfills the always fallible experts' prophecies that he will sweep the Oregon primary, he will virtually eliminate Governor Thomas E Dewey as a serious contender. And since the Ohio results have not really put Senator Taft back in the running, the elimination of Dewey will shift the Stassen bandwagon back into high year again.

In this event, the rag of silver lining which Ohio has for Stassen will become very useful indeed. For the Ohio primary has had unexpected psychological effect, It has caused Senator Taft, always a dogged fighter, to stop thinking about beating Stassen and to start thinking again about winning for himself. More important still, it has revived the failing spirits of the Old Guard Republicans, who are Senator Taft's real backers.

Three days ago, the Old Guardsmen were nerving themselves for the dreadful sacrifices—preparing, in fact, to get behind the least unbearable of the alternatives to Stassen, who are, of course, Governor Dewey and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. Now after Ohio, men like Colonel Robert R. McCormick are again beginning to think they can nominate a candidate of their own kidney—either Senator Taft, or Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin. The odds are approximately 10 to one that the Old Guard is wrong. But the fact of the real odds does not alter the fact of the Old Guard attitude.

This attitude, in turn, will become mightily important if Dewey is licked in Oregon. For then, it will again be necessary to discuss stop-Stassen combinations. But the Republican Old Guard will say that their man, Taft, has done better that the brisk Dewey; they will therefore demand that the stop-Stassen combination be formed on their terms. Unfortunately, the bulk of Dewey's strength cannot be swung behind a candidate of the Taft-Martin type. In short, Ohio has made it considerably harder to organize a stop-Stassen movement, if and when such a movement becomes necessary and desirable.

Besides this rag of silver lining for Stassen, Ohio also is considered by the wiseacres to magnify the threat to Stassen from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. The likelihood of deadlock at Philadelphia is increased; and this means a corresponding increase in the likelihood of a draft of Senator Vandenberg.

Stassen himself has plainly acknowledged that he regards Senator Vandenberg as a much more serious rival than either Senator Taft or Governor Dewey. Whenever he has had the chance—as during meetings with Eastern states leaders last week—Stassen has gone out of his way to praise the Michigan Senator to the skies. In part, the motive is the sincere admiration which Vandenberg's services have evoked in all reasonably modern-minded Republicans. But there is also another motive, as one cynical politico remarked: "Stassen sounds as though he were running Van for President of the world. And I dare say he'd rather see Van become a candidate for President of the world than a candidate for President of the United States."

Taking it over-all, in short, the most probable Republican nominees as of today, are Vandenberg, Stassen or Dewey, with Dewey and Stassen both in danger of being eliminated in Oregon. Stassen for his part seems supremely confident that Oregon is in the bag. Dewey has altered all his plans to campaign there for over two weeks. But Stassen has overruled his own political staff, who were panicked by the Ohio outcome into urging a long barn-storming effort on the West coast, and will adhere to his original plan of campaigning in Oregon for about a week only.

If Stassen's confidence proves well-founded, he will have only one last hurdle to surmount after Oregon. But it will be a very high hurdle. The truth is that a surprising number of Stassenites would go over to Vandenberg, im the Senator began to be seriously considered by the convention at Philadelphia.

Marshall Indicates Talks With Russia May Be Resumed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Sometimes government publicity or propaganda is as confusing as that issued from private sources. The public, for example, has just been given a carefully prepared statement by secretary of State Marshall on why the veto power should not be abandoned in the United Nations and why the recent proposals to amend the charter should not be pressed.

But General Marshall says one thing and the other agencies of the government, as well as Congress, say quite another. Thus, in his prepared statement, the Secretary of State made this very commendable comment:

"The factor of military strength is of immediate and major importance in the present world situation; but it is not the element which will be paramount in the long run. The emphasis often placed solely on the military aspects of world affairs does a disservice to the cause of peace. The more that present differences are talked about and treated exclusively as a military problem, the more they tend to become so."

Boldness of Statement Amazes

One can only be amazed at the boldness and frankness of this declaration. Yet in the very same day's news comes word of the passage by Congress of billions of dollars for a 70-group air force. In fact, the emphasis from the executive agencies of the Government on the need for military force has been accompanied by no camouflaged reasons—the officials who testified before Congress pointed openly to the menace of Russian aggression as the basis for military rearmament.

When a federal budget is going out of balance just to build up military strength, it must be a source of wonder that the Secretary of State could speak of emphasis on the military aspects as doing a "disservice to the cause of peace" without realizing that the Congress has been impelled by executive recommendations in placing such emphasis on the military aspects.

But this is not all. In his own prepared statement, Secretary Marshall virtually recommended that the United States join in a military alliance to emphasize military strength. He said:

"The United States government is now considering the steps necessary to bring the national military establishment to the minimum level necessary to restore the balance of power relationships required for international security."

Here is perhaps the most important pronouncement on foreign policy made since the close of World War II. It is, in effect, an announcement that, despite the pleas of the late President Wilson against the "balance of power" and despite the arguments of former Secretary of State Cordell Hull in favor of "collective security," the United States government today abandons collective security as impractical and endorses the restoration of the "Balance of power" idea in the world.

It is true this alternative to collective security has been in a sense forced by the refusal of Russia to participate in collective security plans. But at the same moment that Secretary Marshall refuses to sanction amendments to the charter to promote the cause of collective security, he announces that within the United Nations a military alliance against Russia is being formed. He declares:

"The United States is acutely aware that the return of a sense of security to the free nations of the world is essential for the promotion of conditions under which the United Nations can function. The necessary steps for self protection against aggression can be taken within the charter of the United Nations. The charter recognizes in Article 51 the right of individual and collective self defense against armed attack until the Security Council has taken measures necessary to preserve peace and security."

More Emphasis On Military

Here is more emphasis on "military aspects." If Russia will not play ball and insists on her veto in the security Council and also commits acts of aggression, the "balance of power" will be used to coerce her into agreement.

This is a realistic concept that has long been advocated by those who feel that physical force is the "only language the Russians can understand." But there are many who have grave doubts whether this isn't really the way to bring on war. Certainly there is much merit in Secretary Marshall's naive comment that "the factor of military strength . . . is not the element which will be paramount in the long run."

This must mean that somewhere and somehow a resumption of talks between Russia and the United States leading toward a removal of mutual distrust and suspicions is inevitable.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Make Mine Freedom

I SAW a movie short, done after the style of Walt Disney, which is humorous, colorful, bright and yet explains why the United States is an excellent place in which to live—in fact a better place than these proletarian heavens that are so widely advertised by the seekers of utopias. The short is called "Make Mine Freedom" and it was prepared by the John Sutherland Productions, Inc.

The reasons why I like this short so much and call it to your attention so that if your movie house shows it, you will go to see it, is that it is the first of its kind that is wholly affirmative. It does not apologize for the American civilization; it rather challenges anyone to produce a better one. And while the nine-minute short is full of humor, it nevertheless hits the nail squarely on the head. In this country, we have freedom, and that is worth more than anything else in all this world.

Freedom is fast disappearing in most places. It could disappear here. The other day I was reading the testimony of my friend, Frank Waldrop, of the Washington Times - Herald. Frank is what might be called a zealous barger-inner. He likes to fight for freedom and therefore he went down to lay the FCC low, because the FCC has a way of seeking to limit freedom on the air by holding that those who own radio stations must not use them to express an editorial opinion.

It is all right for a movie actor to interrupt a comedy to read an editorial which his gag-writer prepared on what is wright and wrong.

It is all right for a so-called commentator to belabor the public with irresponsible editorial opinion that no newspaper in this country would publish. It is all right for an atheist or a Communist or a Republican, Democrat, or Catholic, Protestant or Jew to use radio time to express private opinions for public consumption.

But not the owner of the station. By becoming a licensee of the FCC, he has lost his inalienable right to express his mind. I suppose that it would be correct for him to go to somebody else's station to speak his piece, but not on his own.

So Frank Waldrop went down to the FCC and landed this haymaker:

"In the order aforementioned you (FCC) say that 'a truly free radio cannot be used to advocate the causes of the licensee,' and offer in justification the instruction of Congress that you regulate broadcasting 'in the public interest, necessity or convenience.' How does it serve the public interest, necessity or convenience to forbid the broadcaster the right to be an advocate?"

The trouble with Frank is that he is too logical. The next question he might ask is why Wayne Coy and his colleagues on the FCC give wave lengths to the wrong kinds of people and take them away from sound people. That might raise a lot of arguments, but I only want to cite this as an example of how vigilant it is necessary for the American people to be if they do not want to lose their freedom.

And that is why I am advertising this nine-minute short, entitled "Make Mine Freedom," which should be shown in every theater in America. It is propaganda, sure! But good, wholesome comedy, too. And it is the sort of propaganda that parents should take their children to see, because our children need to know beyond doubt that just being an American is a blessing.

And while I am on the movies and invading other columns, I want to announce that next week I shall be telling you about "The Iron Curtain," the Twentieth Century Fox film that will be released on May 12. If I were running my own newspaper, I would place a free advertisement on Page One advocating that every American see this picture. After you have seen it, you will really grasp what the first problem facing the American people is.

It is refreshing to find something to praise in these days of so much ugliness. Good things are too often passed over.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Even though Hankus Wallace got himself a vice-president there seems to be a general disinclination to play second fiddle in a one-man orchestra.

You will notice that neither Stassen, Truman, MacArthur, Douglas nor Dewey have said a one-syllabled grunt about their running mates.

The contest has started to shape up like a shadow on a window shade. Now, I'll tell you why the V. P. is never picked until farmers are hammering on the berry crates.

Every candidate for the V. P. was also in the running for the presidential nomination. That means he has been jobbed, hoss-swapped, side-tracked and short-changed.

So the party commissars wait until closing day at the convention, look over the list of retired firemen and pick the sorest of the bunch. That's the way I heard it.

Communications

I look out of my library window and see wires on poles that carry electric currents, and the endless communication. I walk out in the morning, pick up my newspaper and read of what is going on all over the world. I read there, also, the expressions of those who give utterance to their thoughts. And I turn on my radio and listen to a variety of expressions—communications, alive in the world!

I love the solitude of the forest and of the hidden-away places. But even there is this eternal communication. The birds and animals, and even the flowers, talking and communicating, even though in seeming silence. The trees nod and sway happy concord. We have read of the "murmuring hemlocks" and "whispering pines." And a poet has written that "the very flowers, that bend and meet, in sweetening others, grow more sweet."

Listening to an inspired speaker, how spontaneous is the applause at the utterance of something that touches all minds in unity, as though the same lines of communication reached all ears at exactly the same time, in the same manner. Even watching the listener beside us, we can fathom much of what he is thinking. And upon the street, even the passing stranger often communicates something to us.

Nothing short of miracles are these modern means of communication. I received a letter from a friend in Germany, recently, that had been mailed but two days before! And we get important news from every part of the world—including pictures of the actual scenes—as though the happening were outside our door. We live, indeed, in One World, and it is about time that we learned how to live peacefully and happily in it, for the interests of any one part are intricately woven into the interests of the other.

Through these brief, human talks I communicate with more people every day of my life than did my father in a lifetime of sermons from his pulpit! How very wonderful are the opportunities set before us all in this world! Increasingly does responsibility rest upon us all.

Her matron of honor will wear a pink costume, with pink rose hat, multicolored pastel shade accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Boor chose a dark blue dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Cecil a tan costume. Both will wear white accessories and corsages of gardenias.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1946 and is now employed in the Audit office at Sears Roebuck and Company. Her fiance is a graduate of Allegany High School, class of 1944, is a veteran of two and one-half years in the Army Air Force and was employed by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company until his recent resignation to enter Automobile Mechanics School, Blairsville, Pa.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Boor will entertain with a reception for their daughter and her bridal party, in the church hall which will be decorated with tulips. The tiered wedding cake is adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom and Miss Jean Fhictner, Miss Doris Jean Kline and Mrs. Lloyd Kline will assist in serving.

Mr. Cecil and his bride will leave for a trip to eastern cities, and for traveling the bride will wear a gray suit with blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 7—(INS) — The reception Babe Ruth received when he visited the set of "Burlesque" at 20th must have warmed

Jane Greer

his heart. I've been around a long time, and I have never seen any person get such a welcome from stars, directors, grips, electricians and everyone.

The Babe was photographed with Dan Dailey, with whom he will do a broadcast Sunday. He had his picture taken with Betty Grable, and looks as cute as peanuts with that new short hair cut. He promised Dan Dailey a baseball for Dan, Jr., and Director Walter Lang one for seven year old Richard Lang. I didn't know until later that the Babe had made a picture with Mrs. Walter Lang (when she was Fieldsie) called "Fancy Curves," a Christy Walsh sports number. Babe also was in "Pride of the Yankees," the life of Lou Gehrig.

He is in Hollywood to appear in "The Babe Ruth Story." Babe and Mrs. Ruth are living at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and his hours at the studio are arranged for his convenience.

It makes me happy to write that my old friend, Lois Wilson, is back in Hollywood to make a movie after 11-years off the screen. She goes to Warners to play Virginia Mayo's mother in the much discussed "Girl From Jones Beach."

In the good old days of silents, Lois was in a list of hits that read like the classics, "The Covered Wagon," "Monsieur Beaucaire" and others. When she gave up pictures for the stage, she did all right, too. Her last Broadway hit was "Chicken Every Sunday."

"Ill say Lois staged her comeback in a picture that has had plenty of publicity. "Baby" Bacall took a suspension when she walked out of it and refused to wear a bathing suit.

I was chatting with Irving Berlin at Joseph Schenck's house where we had dinner the other night, and he said he has been talking to Ginger Rogers about taking Ethel Merman's role in "Annie Get Your Gun" when Ethel goes on vacation this summer.

Ginger, who hasn't been before the footlights since "Girl Crazy" in 1932, would be orfully, orfully good. Jimmy Stewart covered himself with glory when he appeared in "Harvey" for Frank Faye, and I hope Ginger will accept Irving's offer.

Chatter in Hollywood: The quarrel Nora Eddington and Errol Flynn had, happens in the best of regulated families, and you can bet all the tea in China, it's not going to be serious.

I talked with Errol at Lana Turner's wedding, and he told me then that he had never known such complete happiness was possible.

Errol is very nervous and has been sick, and doesn't look well. Nora was excited about going to New York and, well — you know, they just had a spat. Errol had no more than landed in Columbia, Missouri, than he was on the phone, and Nora will join him in New York.

Jane Greer's baby will be named almost the way I was named if Jane does as she says she's going to do. Next Thursday, Anita Louise is giving Jane a baby shower. Each of the guests will be asked to write the name of a girl and put it in a hat, and the name drawn will be the young lady's name.

If Jane has a boy, the name is all ready. He'll be called Albert Lasker after her husband, Eddie Lasker's father.

I was named Louella, when my parents couldn't get together on a name, after the first woman who walked through the door.

Lew Ayres is sick at home with a recurrence of a tropical fever picked up in the Pacific.

Selene Walters, who filed for divorce from Dr. Alfred Huenergardt after several partings and reconciliations, at Ciro's with Senor Cassio Prados. He is the lady's first husband.

Irene Dunne, so smart in a blue taffeta suit with white hat and gloves, at Maggie Ettinger's cocktail party. Irene leaves for New York and a vacation.

The party honored Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baker and Jack Evans, who are associated with Gracie Allen and George Burns in their radio show. Gracie had on her best dress, and looked cute and chic.

Michael North and Marilyn Maxwell, who were together, said "We are really getting married."

"That I have to see!" I told them.

Angela Lansbury with that dreamy expression — she's so in love with Peter Shaw — with the gent himself at Slapsy Maxie's.

Ruth Hussey will take her vacation by driving across the country in her car.

Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester have been invited to go to London to do a revival of "Payment Deferred," and they may do it.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 7—(INS) — The reception Babe Ruth received when he visited the set of "Burlesque" at 20th must have warmed his heart. I've been around a long time, and I have never seen any person get such a welcome from stars, directors, grips, electricians and everyone.

Jane Greer

The Babe was photographed with Dan Dailey, with whom he will do a broadcast Sunday. He had his picture taken with Betty Grable, and looks as cute as peanuts with that new short hair cut. He promised Dan Dailey a baseball for Dan, Jr., and Director Walter Lang one for seven year old Richard Lang. I didn't know until later that the Babe had made a picture with Mrs. Walter Lang (when she was Fieldsie) called "Fancy Curves," a Christy Walsh sports number. Babe also was in "Pride of the Yankees," the life of Lou Gehrig.

He is in Hollywood to appear in "The Babe Ruth Story." Babe and Mrs. Ruth are living at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and his hours at the studio are arranged for his convenience.

It makes me happy to write that my old friend, Lois Wilson, is back in Hollywood to make a movie after 11-years off the screen. She goes to Warners to play Virginia Mayo's mother in the much discussed "Girl From Jones Beach."

In the good old days of silents, Lois was in a list of hits that read like the classics, "The Covered Wagon," "Monsieur Beaucaire" and others. When she gave up pictures for the stage, she did all right, too. Her last Broadway hit was "Chicken Every Sunday."

"Ill say Lois staged her comeback in a picture that has had plenty of publicity. "Baby" Bacall took a suspension when she walked out of it and refused to wear a bathing suit.

I was chatting with Irving Berlin at Joseph Schenck's house where we had dinner the other night, and he said he has been talking to Ginger Rogers about taking Ethel Merman's role in "Annie Get Your Gun" when Ethel goes on vacation this summer.

Ginger, who hasn't been before the footlights since "Girl Crazy" in 1932, would be orfully, orfully good. Jimmy Stewart covered himself with glory when he appeared in "Harvey" for Frank Faye, and I hope Ginger will accept Irving's offer.

Chatter in Hollywood: The quarrel Nora Eddington and Errol Flynn had, happens in the best of regulated families, and you can bet all the tea in China, it's not going to be serious.

I talked with Errol at Lana Turner's wedding, and he told me then that he had never known such complete happiness was possible.

Errol is very nervous and has been sick, and doesn't look well. Nora was excited about going to New York and, well — you know, they just had a spat. Errol had no more than landed in Columbia, Missouri, than he was on the phone, and Nora will join him in New York.

Jane Greer's baby will be named almost the way I was named if Jane does as she says she's going to do. Next Thursday, Anita Louise is giving Jane a baby shower. Each of the guests will be asked to write the name of a girl and put it in a hat, and the name drawn will be the young lady's name.

If Jane has a boy, the name is all ready. He'll be called Albert Lasker after her husband, Eddie Lasker's father.

I was named Louella, when my parents couldn't get together on a name, after the first woman who walked through the door.

Lew Ayres is sick at home with a recurrence of a tropical fever picked up in the Pacific.

Selene Walters, who filed for divorce from Dr. Alfred Huenergardt after several partings and reconciliations, at Ciro's with Senor Cassio Prados. He is the lady's first husband.

Irene Dunne, so smart in a blue taffeta suit with white hat and gloves, at Maggie Ettinger's cocktail party. Irene leaves for New York and a vacation.

The party honored Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baker and Jack Evans, who are associated with Gracie Allen and George Burns in their radio show. Gracie had on her best dress, and looked cute and chic.

Michael North and Marilyn Maxwell, who were together, said "We are really getting married."

"That I have to see!" I told them.

Angela Lansbury with that dreamy expression — she's so in love with Peter Shaw — with the gent himself at Slapsy Maxie's.

Ruth Hussey will take her vacation by driving across the country in her car.

Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester have been invited to go to London to do a revival of "Payment Deferred," and they may do it.

Board Considers More Insurance On Buildings

Companies Urging Greater Coverage

Allegany County Board of Commissioners is considering increasing fire insurance coverage on all county owned buildings, it was disclosed yesterday, after William N. Merrick, Baltimore, a representative of four fire insurance companies, appeared before the board.

The companies hold policies on most of the county property, and Merrick suggested that all insurance be increased, citing that coverage on the recently damaged Union Street County Building was inadequate and should have been $80,000 instead of $42,500.

He recommended that the board take a list of coverage suggested by his companies last November, revise the list upwards by at least 20 per cent and also provide for damage from tornadoes, windstorms, explosions and similar hazards.

The recommendations for the various buildings as submitted last November include: $493,000 on the Court House; $47,000 on the jail and sheriff's residence; $35,000 on the Cumberland Free Public Library; $11,000 on the library annex; $72,000 on the Welfare Board building; $120,000 on Sylvan Retreat; $42,000 on the county home and infirmary; $12,500 on the home of the superintendent of the county home properties, and $7,500 for the barn at the county farm.

Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said he believes that the insurance on the Court House had been increased to $500,000 last year but that all the policies will be checked to determine the exact coverage. It was indicated by the board that it would probably follow the recommendations in part as replacement costs of buildings would not be covered by present insurance policies. They pointed to the Union Street County buildings as an example.

The board took under advisement a request of the Lonaconing Republican Club that the county do something about the unsanitary conditions caused by a broken sewer in the Dudley Terrace section outside the town limits of Lonaconing.

Commissioner W. H. Lemmert said the case should be referred to the county health officer. He also said he doubted that the county could legally replace sewer pipe damaged on private property. If this were done, the board would be flooded with requests from other sections of the county, he added.

Commissioner James Holmes said the Dudley Terrace section had the sewer laid about 50 years ago by the then Road Board but that he was not sure about the responsibility of the county commissioners in the matter.

The communication from the Lonaconing club was signed by Mathew Martin, president; John D. Turnbull, secretary and Harry T. Warnick, treasurer.

Constable Named For Cresaptown Area

Jerome W. Whitaker, Cresaptown, was named constable at large yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, following a number of requests from residents of the Cresaptown-McCoole area for a peace officer.

An employe of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto, Whitaker is 31 years of age. The work will consist of preserving the peace and serving certain legal papers and documents in the area. The salary for the job is fixed at $50 per month. Whitaker can act in any part of the county under the appointment but his main duties will cover the Cresaptown-McCoole area, commissioners said.

Textile Workers Begin Celanese Contract Talks

Membership discussion and action on proposed modification in the Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, contract with the Celanese Corporation of America will be taken at special meetings called next week at the union hall.

The meetings, according to Playford Aldridge, union president, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

A preliminary contract session was held at the Celanese Plant Thursday. Union officials described that meeting as merely introductory.

The actual demands have been set, a union official said, but are subject to certification and modification by the membership which will take place next week.

Edward R. Allen, superintendent of personnel for the Amcelle plant, said the union indicated it would request a "substantial wage increase."

Allan said he had learned that another TWUA local had asked for a 25-cent an hour increase at a plant engaged in somewhat similar operations to Celanese.

St. Anthony's Church Plans May Procession

The May procession at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Ridgeley, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., according to the Rev. Robert Hagannon, pastor. The procession will move from the basement around the church to the entrance and down the center aisle of the church. The sermon will be by Rev. Ervan Maisel, O.F.M. Cap., of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Cumberland.

Following the May procession service and sermon there will be benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Studies carried on in 1947 showed that the Pacific shore-line once stood along a line running from western Montana to the vicinity of El Paso, Texas.

A concert of the chamber music and songs written by Romanian Composer Georges Enesco, was arranged in Paris when the composer-conductor was only 16 years old.

LaSalle High Seeks Data On Graduates

The Christian Brothers of LaSalle High School, who will participate in a national centennial celebration of the arrival of the organization in this country, yesterday requested graduates of the local high school to assist in compiling a list of the alumni.

The information should be addressed to Brother Anthony and should contain war records, education pursued after leaving LaSalle and the marital status and present occupation as well as a list of organizations in which the graduate now holds membership.

Driver Forfeits Bond

Donald R. Walters, Oldtown, forfeited $6.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of failing to keep to the right of center of the highway. He was arrested Sunday on Ruote 51 by State Trooper A. M. Spioch.

Potomac Park Citizens Committee Takes Oath

The Citizens' Committee of Potomac Park was sworn into office yesterday by Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden at the Court House.

It was Boden's first such official act since he took office Wednesday upon the death of Robert Jackson.

The committee included J. Alex Monnett, two year term; Edward W. Shaffer, two-year term; Charles T. Pfeiffer, Bruce Thompson and John S. Cook, all for one-year terms.

Under an Act passed by the 1946 Maryland Legislature the committee handles the civic government of Potomac Park.

Board Considers More Insurance On Buildings

Companies Urging Greater Coverage

Allegany County Board of Commissioners is considering increasing fire insurance coverage on all county owned buildings, it was disclosed yesterday, after William N. Merrick, Baltimore, a representative of four fire insurance companies, appeared before the board.

The companies hold policies on most of the county property, and Merrick suggested that all insurance be increased, citing that coverage on the recently damaged Union Street County Building was inadequate and should have been $80,000 instead of $42,500.

He recommended that the board take a list of coverage suggested by his companies last November, revise the list upwards by at least 20 per cent and also provide for damage from tornadoes, windstorms, explosions and similar hazards.

The recommendations for the various buildings as submitted last November include: $493,000 on the Court House; $47,000 on the jail and sheriff's residence; $35,000 on the Cumberland Free Public Library; $11,000 on the library annex; $72,000 on the Welfare Board building; $120,000 on Sylvan Retreat; $42,000 on the county home and infirmary; $12,500 on the home of the superintendent of the county home properties, and $7,500 for the barn at the county farm.

Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said he believes that the insurance on the Court House had been increased to $500,000 last year but that all the policies will be checked to determine the exact coverage. It was indicated by the board that it would probably follow the recommendations in part as replacement costs of buildings would not be covered by present insurance policies. They pointed to the Union Street County buildings as an example.

The board took under advisement a request of the Lonaconing Republican Club that the county do something about the unsanitary conditions caused by a broken sewer in the Dudley Terrace section outside the town limits of Lonaconing.

Commissioner W. H. Lemmert said the case should be referred to the county health officer. He also said he doubted that the county could legally replace sewer pipe damaged on private property. If this were done, the board would be flooded with requests from other sections of the county, he added.

Commissioner James Holmes said the Dudley Terrace section had the sewer laid about 50 years ago by the then Road Board but that he was not sure about the responsibility of the county commissioners in the matter.

The communication from the Lonaconing club was signed by Mathew Martin, president; John D. Turnbull, secretary and Harry T. Warnick, treasurer.

Constable Named For Cresaptown Area

Jerome W. Whitaker, Cresaptown, was named constable at large yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, following a number of requests from residents of the Cresaptown-McCoole area for a peace officer.

An employe of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto, Whitaker is 31 years of age. The work will consist of preserving the peace and serving certain legal papers and documents in the area. The salary for the job is fixed at $50 per month. Whitaker can act in any part of the county under the appointment but his main duties will cover the Cresaptown-McCoole area, commissioners said.

Textile Workers Begin Celanese Contract Talks

Membership discussion and action on proposed modification in the Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, contract with the Celanese Corporation of America will be taken at special meetings called next week at the union hall.

The meetings, according to Playford Aldridge, union president, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

A preliminary contract session was held at the Celanese Plant Thursday. Union officials described that meeting as merely introductory.

The actual demands have been set, a union official said, but are subject to certification and modification by the membership which will take place next week.

Edward R. Allen, superintendent of personnel for the Amcelle plant, said the union indicated it would request a "substantial wage increase."

Allan said he had learned that another TWUA local had asked for a 25-cent an hour increase at a plant engaged in somewhat similar operations to Celanese.

St. Anthony's Church Plans May Procession

The May procession at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Ridgeley, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., according to the Rev. Robert Hargannon, pastor. The procession will move from the basement around the church to the entrance and down the center aisle of the church. The sermon will be by Rev. Ervan Maisel, O.P.M. Cap., of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Cumberland.

Following the May procession service and sermon there will be benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Studies carried on in 1947 showed that the Pacific shore-line once stood along a line running from western Montana to the vicinity of El Paso, Texas.

A concert of the chamber music and songs written by Romanian Composer Georges Enesco, was arranged in Paris when the composer-conductor was only 16 years old.

LaSalle High Seeks Data On Graduates

The Christian Brothers of LaSalle High School, who will participate in a national centennial celebration of the arrival of the organization in this country, yesterday requested graduates of the local high school to assist in compiling a list of the alumni.

The information should be addressed to Brother Anthony and should contain war records, education pursued after leaving LaSalle and the marital status and present occupation as well as a list of organizations in which the graduate now holds membership.

Driver Forfeits Bond

Donald R. Walters, Oldtown, forfeited $6.45 bond yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of failing to keep to the right of center of the highway. He was arrested Sunday on Ruote 51 by State Trooper A. M. Spioch.

Potomac Park Citizens Committee Takes Oath

The Citizens' Committee of Potomac Park was sworn into office yesterday by Clerk of Court [illegible] E. Boden at the Court House.

It was Boden's first such official act since he took office Wednesday upon the death of Robert Jackson.

The committee included J. Alex Monnett, two year term; Edward W. Shaffer, two-year term; Charles T. Pfeiffer, Bruce Thompson and John S. Cook, all for one-year terms.

Under an Act passed by the 1946 Maryland Legislature the committee handles the civic government of Potomac Park.

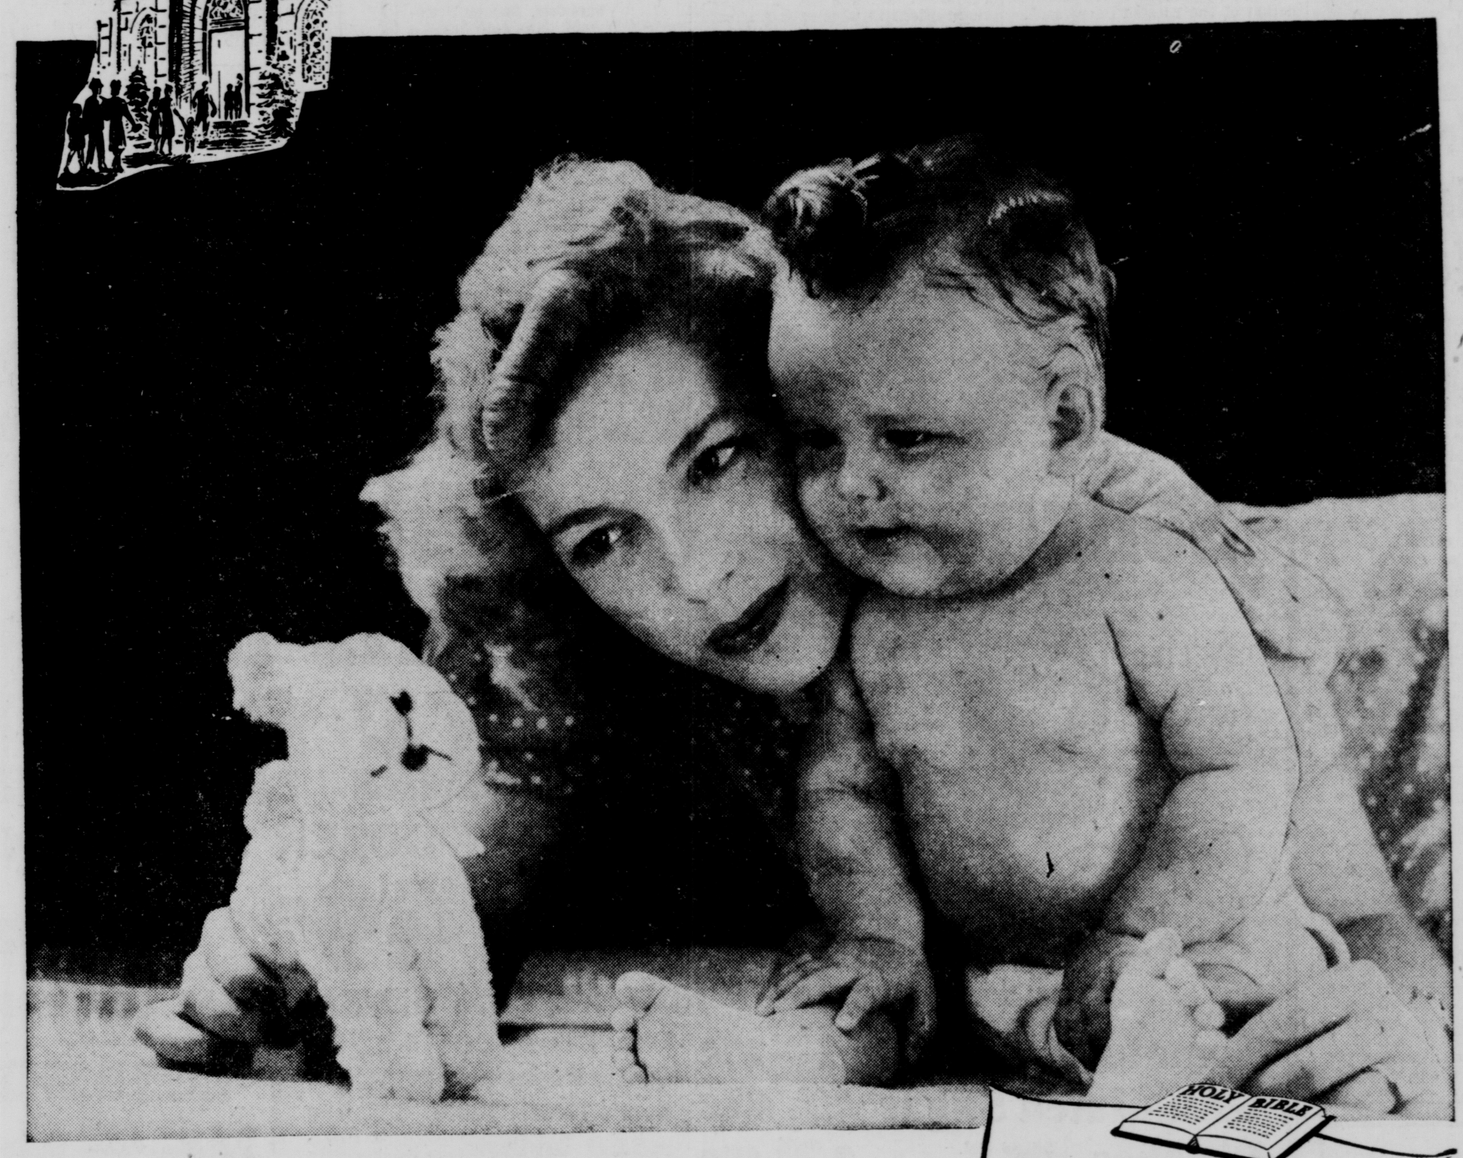
Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

Mothers Haven't Changed!



Some misinformed people call her a "modern mother." That's because she wears her hair differently — she dresses with a fashionable accent — and she feeds her baby all those "unheard of" things that doctors today recommend.

But she's really an old-fashioned mother. She loves her child with old-fashioned devotion . . . sacrifices with old-fashioned unselfishness . . . dreams of giving him "advantages" she never had . . . boasts of his "brightness" . . . frets about his contrariness . . . worries about his pains . . . laughs delightedly at his "cuteness."

Like so many mothers before her, she prays that her child may grow into noble manhood . . . yet, sometimes, she wishes he could always stay just as he is today.

But her little boy is growing up. And as he grows, mother will find the Church her faithful ally: developing her child's character, deepening his faith in God, strengthening his convictions of right and wrong. From the Cradle Roll to the Men's Bible Class her son will gain in Sunday School and Church the spiritual riches that mothers — yesterday and today — have earnestly sought for their children.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Go to Church this Sunday, your Church, any Church, but go!

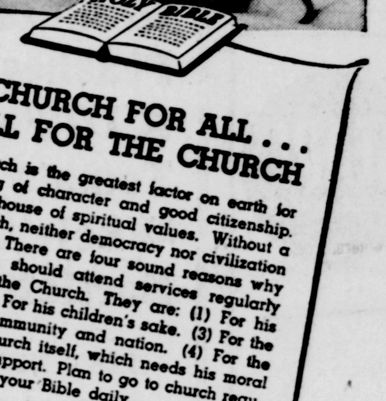
Mothers Haven't Changed!

Some misinformed people call her a "modern mother." That's because she wears her hair differently — she dresses with a fashionable accent — and she feeds her baby all those "unheard of" things that doctors today recommend.

But she's really an old-fashioned mother. She loves her child with old-fashioned devotion . . . sacrifices with old-fashioned unselfishness . . . dreams of giving him "advantages" she never had . . . boasts of his "brightness" . . . frets about his contrariness . . . worries about his pains . . . laughs delightedly at his "cuteness."

Like so many mothers before her, she prays that her child may grow into noble manhood . . . yet, sometimes, she wishes he could always stay just as he is today.

But her little boy is growing up. And as he grows, mother will find the Church her faithful ally: developing her child's character, deepening his faith in God, strengthening his convictions of right and wrong. From the Cradle Roll to the Men's Bible Class her son will gain in Sunday School and Church the spiritual riches that mothers — yesterday and today — have earnestly sought for their children.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Soggy Field Halts County Track Meet Set For Today

Events Postponed Until Next Week

The third annual Allegany county senior-junior high school track and field meet scheduled for today in Fort Hill Stadium has been postponed on account of wet grounds and may be held next week, it was announced last night by Arthur G. Ramey, director.

Rain yesterday put the field in such a bad condition that it will be impossible to stage the program which was scheduled to start this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The 37-event program for boys will likely be held the early part of next week so as not to conflict with Fort Hill High School's invitational meet set for next Friday under the lights in Fort Hill Stadium.

Ramey stated that a final decision on the date will be made by Sunday night. He hinted that if good weather prevails the meet may be staged Tuesday or Wednesday with all events to run off in the afternoon.

Games Tourney May 15

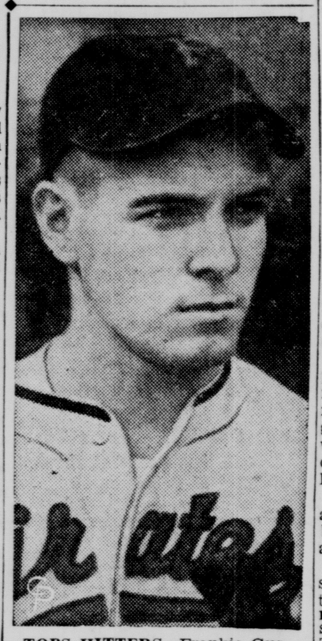
The games tournament for Allegany county junior and senior high school girls is set for Saturday, May 15 at 10 a. m., at Frostburg State Teachers' College Field. Miss Lillian Wellner, physical education instructor at Frostburg State Teachers' College, will be director of the tourney.

Today is the deadline for entries. Thus far Central, Bruce, Mt. Savage, Allegany, Cresaptown, Fort Hill and Barton have announced they will enter teams. The program consists of softball games for junior high grades 7, 8 and 9 and senior high grades 10, 11 and 12 and volley ball for junior and senior high school teams.

Rain Stops Baseball

Rain yesterday also washed out the scheduled game between Allegany and Fort Hill baseball teams, co-leaders of the Bi-State Conference, and the LaSalle-Central game billed for Lonaconing.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh announced that Fort Hill's next start will be against Hagerstown High School here Monday at 4 p. m.



TOPS HITTERS—Frankie Gustine, Pittsburgh infielder, is currently leading the major league hit parade with an average of .434. He has banged out 23 hits in 53 trips to the plate for the highest average in either loop. Gustine is in his tenth season with the Buccaneers. His best previous batting mark for a season was .297 last year.

Pittsburgh Loses Chesnes' Services

Rookie Hopes Shoulder Will Be OK In 10 Days

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (INS) — Rookie Bob Chesnus of the Pittsburgh Pirates said tonight that he hopes to take his regular turn on the mound within ten days.

The $65,000 hurler told International News Service that the muscular shoulder injury he received in spring training "acted up" when he was pitching against the New York Giants yesterday. He said:

"Naturally I was disappointed when my arm began to hurt. I asked (Manager Billy) Meyer to take me out. My doctors tell me that the shoulder is in no serious condition and that with proper rest I should be back there pitching within a week or ten days."

Meyer shared the optimistic outlook of the pitcher who was conditionally purchased from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Meyer said:

"Chesnes looked very good in his first appearance. His fast ball was hopping and his curve was breaking sharply. I think the pain in the shoulder will disappear shortly."

Boston Braves Hand Blackwell Third Setback

Elliott, Heath Belt Homers In 4-3 Win

CINCINNATI, May 7 (AP)—Ewell Blackwell, star Cincinnati pitcher, failed to finish for the fourth consecutive time this season and went down to defeat before the Boston Braves today, 4 to 3.

Home runs by Bob Elliott, most valuable player in the National League last year, and Jeff Heath, along with six walks and three other safeties in 5⅔ innings, were enough for Blackie.

He left the game holding his pitching arm and with the bags filled. Eddie Stanky, first to face replacement Harry Gumbert, singled home two runners and that was the ball game. The runs were charged against Blackwell. He now has won two and lost three.

Bill Voiselle allowed eight hits and was in trouble several times, but finished for his third win against no defeats.

The victory lifted Boston into sixth place and dropped Cincinnati to seventh. Box:

Owners of beagle hounds that won championships in two classes in 1947 received trophies last night at the regular meeting of the Allegany Beagle Club held at the Woodmen of the World Home.

The trophies donated by Jeffries Brothers, Frostburg jewelers, went to Simeon W. Green, of Frostburg, owner of Pattie's Bessie, winner in the 15 inch class, and Dr. H. C. Diehl, of Frostburg, owner of Hi-Rock Snappie, champion in the 13 inch class.

Announcement was made that the club will sponsor an All-Age Fun Trial for members on Sunday, May 6 at the club grounds on the Barton Dairy Farm. Dr. H. C. Diehl, chairman of the field trial committee, announced that the drawings will be made at 8 a. m.

J. E. Batdorf, representing the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company, showed an interesting and educational moving picture entitled "Eternal Flame." The film deals with the natural gas industry, its rapid growth and its importance in the world today. The fact that there is plenty of gas was stressed and so was conservation due to the lack of facilities for a product that is in great demand.

Hugh Stevenson presided at the meeting.

But President Henry Parr 3rd noted in a formal statement that the track is bound by its license to "protect" its patrons. The Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau helps the track to spot touts and bookies.

Herman Barron Forges To Front In Goodall Golf

Locke Is Runner-Up With Hamilton 3rd

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., May 7 (INS) — It was pea-soup Friday, overhead and underfoot, at the jolly, old Goodall Golf Tournament today and its rewards went only to those who think the hip-boot is here to stay.

Herman Barron

Barron went from second to first in the point-standings, at 24-plus, and Locke took up his position upon the rung immediately below, at 23-plus.

Nobody else broke 70 in the wind and chill and pelting rain which scourged the second round throughout and washed out the third entirely today. Only three others broke the Wykagyl course's reluctant par of 72 during the moist and fitful occasion.

Hamilton Is Third

A sixth member of the 16-man field, ex-PGA champion Bob Hamilton, managed to pink 72 right on the nose and wound up third on the scoreboard with a plus-20 tally.

The rest, including yesterday's record-breaking Lloyd Mangrum, finished in the backwash of an excessively Saturated occasion. Mangrum saw the course for the first time yesterday and shot a 66. He shot a 73 today.

Locke, defending champion, also had a 69 in yesterday's sunshine, indicating he can play them either moist or dry with equal facility. Barron was 70 yesterday, giving plump Bobby whatever honor may go with a low medal of 138 for 36 holes.

However, the thing that mattered in cold, hard cash in the poke was this final reading on the scoreboard today:

Barron, plus-24; Locke, plus-23; Hamilton, plus-20; Ben Hogan, plus-12; Mangrum, plus-11 (he had been plus-14 overnight); Henry Cotton, England, plus-9; and PGA Champion Jim Ferrier, plus-1. So much for the positive side.

For the negative, there was this, Chick Harbert, zero; Vic Ghezzi, minus-6; Herman Keiser and Dutch Harrison, minus-8; Ed Furgol and Masters Champion Claude Harmon, minus-10 (they had been plus-7, overnight); Jimmy Demaret, minus-11; Cary Middlecoff, minus-20, and Johnny Palmer, minus-27.

Locke In Good Position

Locke thus was far better positioned for a stretch-run than he was a year ago when he snatched victory away from Ghezzi right on the wire. The South African was 7 points behind that time, starting the last nine holes, but shot a 31 and finished three ahead.

But, at match-play, anything can happen in the 54 holes still to be negotiated before Sunday's climax.

Cub Hurlers Wild, Brooklyn Wins 9-5

14 Walks Aid Dodgers, Casey Stars In Relief

CHICAGO, May 7—(AP)—Brooklyn benefitted by 14 walks to down the last-place Chicago Cubs today, 9-5, in a game that dragged through three hours and 36 minutes.

A triple by Preston Ward, the Dodgers' rookie first baseman, after reliefer Ralph Hamner loaded the bases with walks in the sixth, was the key blow of the eight Brooklyn bingles. The drive into the right field corner broke a 5-5 tie.

Neither Joe Hatten nor Hank Borowy, the starters, lasted three innings. Hugh Casey, who pitched the last five scoreless frames, received credit for the victory.

Using only eight hits, the Dodgers came from behind by taking advantage of the wildness of five Chicago pitchers, plus three errors. Box:

Handicap Stars Enter Endurance Test At Pimlico

Ten Including Stymie May Start In Dixie

BALTIMORE, May 7—(AP)—There are only 12 thoroughbreds in training which have won more than $200,000 and four of them are in tomorrow's Dixie Handicap, which gives you an idea of the kind of a race it will be at Pimlico.

The four and their earnings are Stymie, $818,560, Double Jay, $240,280, Fervent, $223,735, and Faultless, $218,770.

But the race won't be confined to this gold-plated quartet. There are six other overnight nominees and it's perfectly conceivable that any of them might romp in first.

The "Big Four" are being penalized for their past success by being assigned to a lot of weight, which can be expected to count heavily in an endurance run of a mile and three-sixteenths. In addition, the track probably will be off after a week of intermittent rain.

Stymie, the big red chestnut of Mrs. E. D. Jacobs, will have to pick up 127 pounds. Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay will carry 124, and the Calumet farm pair of Fervent and Faultless 121 and 117, respectively.

The rest of the field includes William Helis' Elpis, 118, King Ranch's Contest, Byard Sharp's Tide Rips and J. H. Hammond's Butler, 110 each, Christina Stable's Service Pilot, 109, and Joseph Tucci's Incline, 107.

If all go, the winner will get $23,000.

Stymie, Double Jay, Tide Rips, and Elpis have tangled recently with Double Jay coming off best. In the Excelsior Handicap, Double Jay was second ahead of Stymie, making his first start of 1948.

The four-year-old Wilmington owned racer then won the $25,000 added Trenton Handicap at Garden State, beating Tide Rips and Elpis.

In addition to spotting the others weight, Stymie will be giving away age. He now is seven.

Post time for the 44th running of the Dixie will be 4:05 p. m. (EST).

Coaltown To Run In The Preakness

Leaves Next Week For Pimlico Track

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 7 (INS) —Warren Wright, owner of Calumet Farm, announced today he has definitely decided to start Coaltown along with Citation in the $100,000 Preakness at Pimlico racetrack in Baltimore, Md., May 15.

The zephyr-swift Coaltown ran second to stablemate Citation in the Kentucky Derby Saturday. Calumet trainer Ben Jones told Wright Coaltown came out of the Derby so well and has had such fine workouts since that he saw no reason why he shouldn't contest the Preakness.

Accordingly, Wright said, Coaltown will be shipped from Churchill Downs at Louisville, scene of Calumet's fabulous one - two Derby punch of last Saturday, to Pimlico early next week. Citation already has been shipped to the Baltimore plant, where the Preakness forms the mid - jewel in racing's triple crown.

The Preakness, moreover, is at a mile and three-sixteenths, a sixteenth shorter than Kentucky Derby distance and possibly better suited to Coaltown's tremendous early speed.

FORMER TEAMMATES WILL HEAR ENGLE AT BANQUET HERE

Teammates of Charles "Rip" Engle in the days when the latter played basketball at Salisbury (Pa.) High School and with the Salisbury Cardinals, independent quint, plan to attend the Fort Hill High School All-Sports Banquet at which the Brown University coach will be the principal speaker Thursday, May 13, at the Fort Hill High School cafeteria.

Among those who plan to be here for the big event are Wilbur "Wib" Lichliter and his brother David "Pickles" Lichliter, who coached basketball and football teams at Boswell (Pa.) High School for 20 years, and Johnny Dunn, former Salisbury High coach, who is now teaching in Grantsville, Garrett county.

William Orndorff, chairman of the banquet committee, last night announced that the group which he heads will make final plans for the affair at a meeting on Monday at Fort Hill High School at 8 o'clock.

Tickets for the banquet are still available and may be purchased at the Wilson Hardware Company, Truitt's Drug Store, Shaw's Restaurant, Oldtown Road, and Fort Hill High School.

Change State Meet Date

12,513 Witness 20 Shows

Deetz Affected By Rule

Glove Must Contact Ball

By C. V. BURNS

Arthur G. Ramey reports that the Maryland scholastic track and field meet will be held on Saturday, May 29, instead of May 22 at Dundalk. The change was made due to state scholarship examinations being scheduled for May 22.

Seven of the 11 record performances in Maryland's first postwar meet last year at Westminster are held by Allegany county athletes.

Bucy of Fort Hill copped the half mile run in 2:12.7.

Trieber of Fort Hill tossed the 12 pound shot 43 feet, 2¾ inches.

One of the choice morsels of advance publicity on the House of David baseball team which played here Thursday is that the players belong to a religious cult and are strict vegetarians. Which is nothing but a lot of balderdash.

Monday's amateur show at the State Armory will be the 21st since September in Cumberland. A total of 12,513 have witnessed the 20 shows staged so far this season. This is a good average of 626 cash customers a show.

Marion Klingensmith, the fighting cop from Brownsville, Pa., who scored a knockout in "Vic" Ricker's last pro show here, will fight Larry Huff of Pittsburgh in the main go at Wheeling, Monday, May 10.

The Touchdown Club of Washington, D. C., is giving $10,000 for the promotion of boys' activities in the District of Columbia. A check for $2,500 goes to the Merrick Boys' Club whose amateur boxers have appeared in several Cumberland shows.

Jimmie Deetz, busy little preliminary fighter, is the first local amateur who will be on the shelf for 30 days following his knockout at the hands of Earl Smith in last Monday's show here.

Deetz must pass a physician examination at the end of the 30-day period before he will be allowed to resume hostilities in the ring, according to Clifton Van Roby, A.A.U. commissioner for Western Maryland.

The compulsory eight-count knockdown rule also became effective last Monday.

We talked to quite a few fans before the bouts and they all agreed the new rules are most satisfactory.

Monday's show was the fifty-second staged in Cumberland since the American Legion revived the amateur sport in October, 1945. A total of 448 bouts have been held here in three years without a serious injury.

The new rules may prove to be that ounce of prevention that is worth a pound of cure.

Charles S. "Bill" Catherman, Jr., former member of the Fourth Estate, is the Cumberland Country Club's publicity chairman, and he's doing a topnotch job. "Bill" is editor of the Country Club Bulletin, the organization's newsy sheet that tells of the activities at the club.

Did you know the names of thoroughbred race horses are limited to 14 letters, including spaces, and not more than three words, and no name that has been used in the previous 15 years is permitted.

Dan Willard, secretary of the Interstate Baseball League, tells the one about the team in his circuit that has been griping because it failed to get enough holiday dates at home.

If the dissatisfied one will please check the Bi-State schedule he will find that another team occupies the park on two of the three holidays so he can't get more than one date unless he chases the other league club out of the park on the dates assigned to it or invents a few more holidays.

When a baseball player throws his glove at a batted or thrown ball and the glove fails to come in contact with the horsehide there is no penalty imposed on the player, according to the Official Baseball Rules which have been adopted by the two major leagues and the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

An argument on such a play came up in the recent LaSalle-Fort Hill game at Stitcher Field when a LaSalle player tossed his glove at a batted ball.

According to Rule 47, Section 5, if the glove comes in contact with a batted ball the batsman is entitled to three bases and if a thrown ball the runners are allowed to advance two bases and also go further at their own risk.

In many quarters the impression prevails, and wrongly so, that advancement permitted is limited to three bases on a batted ball and two on a thrown ball.

In conclusion the rules state:

"Note also the mere act of throwing cap, glove or part of uniform at ball in itself is not a violation unless the article comes in contact with the ball."

The contention that the two major leagues have different rulings on the play is wrong.

VICO, TEBBETTS FINED $100 FOR FIST FIGHT

CHICAGO, May 7 (INS) — Detroit's George Vico and Boston's Birdie Tebbetts were fined $100 apiece today for their fist fight following a close play at home during yesterday's Tigers-Red Sox game at Boston.

After receiving a report from umpires on the scene, American League President Will Harridge said Vico, Detroit's rookie first baseman, had been fined for "conduct on the field" and Red Sox catcher Tebbetts for "failure to go immediately to the clubhouse."

Eagles, Ridgeley Tilt Here Today Is League Opener

All Saturday games with the exception of the one here will get under way at 4 p. m. Romney is on standard time.

Barrelville is not scheduled to play a league game Sunday but instead will play Eckhart, an independent nine, at 3 p. m. in Barrelville.

Lemon Of Indians Blanks Senators

Bob Hurls 4-Hitter, Cleveland Wins, 8-0

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Bob Lemon's 4-hit pitching moved Cleveland into second place in the American League as the Indians defeated Washington, 8-0, here tonight to snap a 4-game losing streak. Allie Clark and Joe Gordon slammed fifth inning homeruns off Mickey Haefner.

Lemon, who won his third game of the season, inserted three of the Indians' 13 hits off Haefner, Marino Pieretti and Forrest Thompson, but Gordon paced Cleveland's hitting with a home run, double and single.

Cleveland clipped Haefner for two runs in the third inning and sprayed three runs across in the fifth inning as Clark homered with none on and Gordon homered after Lou Boudreau had walked. The Indians added three runs off Thompson in the ninth on singles by Boudreau and Eddie Robinson, Gordon's double and Pat Seerey's single.

Lemon struck out five and walked two in lifting the Indians ahead of the idle New York Yankees. Score:

CLEVELAND	002 030 003—8	13	0
WASHINGTON	000 000 000—0	4	0

Lemon and Hegan; Haefner, Pieretti (6), Thompson (9) and Early.

Cubs Reduce Squad, Option Two Hurlers

CHICAGO, May 7 (INS)—The Chicago Cubs announced tonight they have optioned two pitchers to trim their playing squad to 31 players — six above the 25-player limit they must reach by May 20.

Righthander Don Carlsen was optioned to the Cubs' Los Angeles Angels farm team in the Pacific Coast League while Ben Wade, another righthander who had been charged with one of the Cubs' losses this season, was sent to the team's Nashville, Tenn., Club in the Southern Association.

Right To Head Settles Issue, 9,319 See Bout

Fight Ends With Ray Groveling On Knees

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 7 (INS)—Ezzard Charles returned to Chicago Stadium tonight, and in the ring where he and death were winners together 77 nights ago he knocked out Elmer Ray in two minutes and 47 seconds of the ninth round.

Seconds before that, in turn, Charles, the dark-skinned Cincinnati light heavy who hadn't fought since the Sam Baroudi tragedy at the stadium Feb. 20, had hit Ray hard and fairly low—so low that Ray stumbled drunkenly around the ring thereafter, his arms at his sides.

As he climbed out of the ring, Ray, who'd held a 17 pound weight advantage over the Ohioan, claimed he hadn't been able to raise his arms.

Whatever it was, Charles derived little material gain from the fast, hard-punching main event watched by 9,319 payees. Charles was to get 22½ per cent of the net gate—the gross was only $42,704— and he pledged $5,000 in advance to the parents and sisters of the late Barouli, Akron, O., negro who was kayoed by Charles and died of a cerebral hemorrhage six hours later.

Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun guaranteed a like amount to Baroudi's people, and the fight was staged under Illinois' new safety conditions, an outgrowth of the tragedy the last time there was pro boxing at the stadium.

Charles Gains Revenge

For Charles, the victory was one for revenge, for he lost a split decision to his antique Hastings, Fla., opponent in New York early last summer. At that, it was a hard-won affair, for after taking the first two rounds the lithe, tall Charles, who outreached if not outweighed his foe, tired perceptibly and let the other carry the fight through the sixth canto.

At this juncture, age began to show its unfeeling pleasure as far as Ray was concerned. The tubby heavyweight started coming in second best to Charles' wild swinging, and the latter took heart from this and took the fight to Ray.

Some who saw Charles' stunning ninth-round punch against the north ropes claimed, with Ray, that it was low. Some said no. But as a cut, hurt-looking Ray blundered off the ropes and started walking towards his corner, Referee Tom Kenneally looked at him and said one brusque word:

"Fight!"

Ray got his paws up only once after that. A Charles left shunted him to the east ropes and a Charles right to the head flung him face forward on the canvas.

The new Illinois boxing rules, which call for eight-ounce gloves in all bouts, also call for a mandatory eight count on all knockdowns—but Ray needed no rule book to keep him down. At six he was up on a knee, groping for the ropes. At eight he plunged forward onto both knees, then pitched into Kenneally's arms as the pageant ended.

Swiden Is Kayoed

Bob Satterfield, Chicago, 175 knocked out Art Swiden, Duquesne, Pa., 180½ first round. Time 1:47.

Pep Beats Willis In Detroit Fight

Feather Champ Easily Wins Non-Title Bout

DETROIT, May 7 (INS)—World featherweight champion Willie Pep, of Hartford, Conn., scored an easy 10-round decision tonight over Detroit's Leroy Willis at Olympia Stadium.

Although he weighed in at 131, five pounds over the featherweight limit, there was no question of the victory over Willis, who weighed 134½.

A crowd of 6,674 fans, who paid a gross gate of $15,933, saw the champion coast through the 10 rounds, winning each with ease.

Willis drew cheers from the crowd, not so much for his efforts, but because he was still there at the finish while Pep suffered a few boos for failing to show the ability of which he has always been capable.

Pep slipped to the canvas once in the ninth when his right foot slipped under the rope but he was up without a count. Willis suffered minor cuts over both eyes in the early rounds.

Soggy Field Halts County Track Meet Set For Today

Events Postponed Until Next Week

The third annual Allegany county senior-junior high school track and field meet scheduled for today in Fort Hill Stadium has been postponed on account of wet grounds and may be held next week, it was announced last night by Arthur G. Ramey, director.

Rain yesterday put the field in such a bad condition that it will be impossible to stage the program which was scheduled to start this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The 37-event program for boys will likely be held the early part of next week so as not to conflict with Fort Hill High School's invitatinal meet set for next Friday under the lights in Fort Hill Stadium.

Ramey stated that a final decision on the date will be made by Sunday night. He hinted that if good weather prevails the meet may be staged Tuesday or Wednesday with all events to run off in the afternoon.

Games Tourney May 15

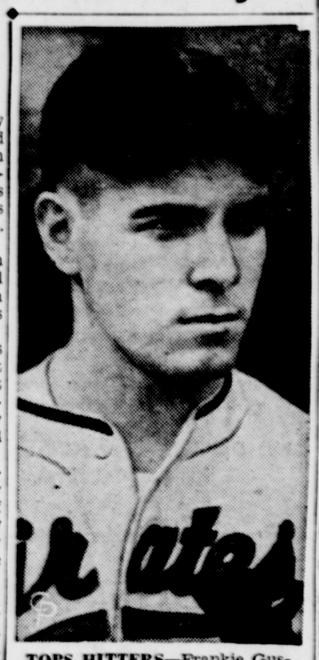
The games tournament for Allegany county junior and senior high school girls is set for Saturday, May 15 at 10 a. m., at Frostburg State Teachers' College Field. Miss Lillian Wellner, physical education instructor at Frostburg State Teachers' College, will be director of the tourney.

Today is the deadline for entries. Thus far Central, Bruce, Mt. Savage, Allegany, Cresaptown, Fort Hill and Barton have announced they will enter teams. The program consists of softball games for junior high grades 7, 8 and 9 and senior high grades 10, 11 and 12 and volley ball for junior and senior high school teams.

Rain Stops Baseball

Rain yesterday also washed out the scheduled game between Allegany and Fort Hill baseball teams, co-leaders of the Bi-State Conference, and the LaSalle-Central game billed for Lonaconing.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh announced that Fort Hill's next start will be against Hagerstown High School here Monday at 4 p. m.



TOPS HITTERS—Frankie Gustine, Pittsburgh infielder, is currently leading the major league hit parade with an average of .434. He has banged out 23 hits in 53 trips to the plate for the highest average in either loop. Gustine is in his tenth season with the Buccaneers. His best previous batting mark for a season was .297 last year.

Pittsburgh Loses Chesnes' Services

Rookie Hopes Shoulder Will Be OK In 10 Days

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (INS) — Rookie Bob Chesnus of the Pittsburgh Pirates said tonight that he hopes to take his regular turn on the mound within ten days.

The $65,000 hurler told International News Service that the muscular shoulder injury he received in spring training "acted up" when he was pitching against the New York Giants yesterday. He said:

"Naturally I was disappointed when my arm began to hurt. I asked (Manager Billy) Meyer to take me out. My doctors tell me that the shoulder is in no serious condition and that with proper rest I should be back there pitching within a week or ten days."

Meyer shared the optimistic outlook of the pitcher who was conditionally purchased from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Meyer said:

"Chesnes looked very good in his first appearance. His fast ball was hopping and his curve was breaking sharply. I think the pain in the shoulder will disappear shortly."

Chesnes was operated on last winter for bone chips in his elbow.

The film deals with the natural gas industry, its rapid growth and its importance in the world today. The fact that there is plenty of gas was stressed and so was conservation due to the lack of facilities for a product that is in great demand.

Boston Braves Hand Blackwell Third Setback

Elliott, Heath Belt Homers In 4-3 Win

CINCINNATI, May 7 (AP)—Ewell Blackwell, star Cincinnati pitcher, failed to finish for the fourth consecutive time this season and went down to defeat before the Boston Braves today, 4 to 3.

Home runs by Bob Elliott, most valuable player in the National League last year, and Jeff Heath, along with six walks and three other safeties in 5⅔ innings, were enough for Blackie.

He left the game holding his pitching arm and with the bags filled. Eddie Stanky, first to face replacement Harry Gumbert, singled home two runners and that was the ball game. The runs were charged against Blackwell. He now has won two and lost three.

Bill Voiselle allowed eight hits and was in trouble several times, but finished for his third win against no defeats.

14 Walks Aid Dodgers, Casey Stars In Relief

CHICAGO, May 7—(AP)—Brooklyn benefitted by 14 walks to down the last-place Chicago Cubs today, 9-5, in a game that dragged through three hours and 36 minutes.

A triple by Preston Ward, the Dodgers' rookie first baseman, after reliefer Ralph Hamner loaded the bases with walks in the sixth, was the key blow of the eight Brooklyn bingles. The drive into the right field corner broke a 5-5 tie.

Neither Joe Hatten nor Hank Borowy, the starters, lasted three innings. Hugh Casey, who pitched the last five scoreless frames, received credit for the victory.

Boxing Body Probes Stimulation Charge

BOSTON, May 7 (AP) — The Massachusetts Boxing Commission reported today it had been unable to establish that middleweight Johnnie Walker had been stimulated by lighted matches during a Tuesday night bout in Salem but said it would welcome further evidence.

The commission reported after the hearing that it "wishes it understood that should information be disclosed other than what was obtained at the hearing, the commission would be very glad to reopen the hearing so that the information may be made available to them."

Walker lost a divided 10-round decision to Joe Blackwood, Paterson, N. J. negro.

PIMLICO GIVES BOOT TO 32 UNDESIRABLES

BALTIMORE, May 7 (AP) — Pimlico track screens its patrons as carefully as the horses in the receiving barn.

The Maryland Jockey Club announced today it had escorted —out—32 "undesirables" since opening Monday. The Club didn't elaborate on what constitutes an undesirable race fan.

But President Henry Parr 3rd noted in a formal statement that the track is bound by its license to "protect" its patrons. The Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau helps the track to spot touts and bookies.

Herman Barron Forges To Front In Goodall Golf

Locke Is Runner-Up With Hamilton 3rd

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., May 7 (INS) — It was pea-soup Friday, overhead and underfoot, at the jolly, old Goodall Golf Tournament today and its rewards went only to those who think the hipboot is here to stay.

Herman Barron

Barron went from second to first in the point-standings, at 24-plus, and Locke took up his position upon the rung immediately below, at 23-plus.

Nobody else broke 70 in the wind and chill and pelting rain which scourged the second round throughout and washed out the third entirely today. Only three others broke the Wykagyl course's reluctant par of 72 during the moist and fitful occasion.

Hamilton Is Third

A sixth member of the 16-man field, ex-PGA champion Bob Hamilton, managed to pink 72 right on the nose and wound up third on the scoreboard with a plus-20 tally.

The rest, including yesterday's record-breaking Lloyd Mangrum, finished in the backwash of an excessively Saturated occasion. Mangrum saw the course for the first time yesterday and shot a 66. He shot a 73 today.

Locke, defending champion, also had a 69 in yesterday's sunshine, indicating he can play them either moist or dry with equal facility. Barron was 70 yesterday, giving plump Bobby whatever honor may go with a low medal of 138 for 36 holes.

Barron, plus-24; Locke, plus-23; Hamilton, plus-20; Ben Hogan, plus-12; Mangrum, plus-11 (he had been plus-14 overnight); Henry Cotton, England, plus-9; and PGA Champion Jim Ferrier, plus-1. So much for the positive side.

For the negative, there was this, Chick Harbert, zero; Vic Ghezzi, minus-6; Herman Keiser and Dutch Harrison, minus-8; Ed Furgol and Masters Champion Claude Harmon, minus-10 (they had been plus-7, overnight); Jimmy Demaret, minus-11; Cary Middlecoff, minus-20, and Johnny Palmer, minus-27.

Locke In Good Position

Locke thus was far better positioned for a stretch-run than he was a year ago when he snatched victory away from Ghezzi right on the wire. The South African was 7 points behind that time, starting the last nine holes, but shot a 31 and finished three ahead.

Handicap Stars Enter Endurance Test At Pimlico

Ten Including Stymie May Start In Dixie

BALTIMORE, May 7—(AP)—There are only 12 thoroughbreds in train- which have won more than $200,000 and four of them are in tomorrow's Dixie Handicap, which gives you an idea of the kind of a race it will be at Pimlico.

But the race won't be confined to this gold-plated quartet. There are six other overnight nominees and it's perfectly conceivable that any of them might romp in first.

The "Big Four" are being penalized for their past success by being assigned to a lot of weight, which can be expected to count heavily in an endurance run of a mile and three-sixteenths. In addition, the track probably will be off after a week of intermittent rain.

Stymie, the big red chestnut of Mrs. E. D. Jacobs, will have to pick up 127 pounds. Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay will carry 124, and the Calumet farm pair of Fervent and Faultless 121 and 117, respectively.

The rest of the field includes William Helis' Elpis, 118, King Ranch's Contest, Byard Sharp's Tide Rips and J. H. Hammond's Butler, 110 each, Christina Stable's Service Pilot, 109, and Joseph Tucci's Incline, 107.

The four-year-old Wilmington owned racer then won the $25,000 added Trenton Handicap at Garden State, beating Tide Rips and Elpis.

In addition to spotting the others weight, Stymie will be giving away age. He now is seven.

Post time for the 44th running of the Dixie will be 4:05 p. m. (EST).

Coaltown To Run In The Preakness

Leaves Next Week For Pimlico Track

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 7 (INS) —Warren Wright, owner of Calumet Farm, announced today he has definitely decided to start Coaltown along with Citation in the $100,000 Preakness at Pimlico racetrack in Baltimore, Md., May 15.

The zephyr-swift Coaltown ran second to stablemate Citation in the Kentucky Derby Saturday. Calumet trainer Ben Jones told Wright Coaltown came out of the Derby so well and has had such fine workouts since that he saw no reason why he shouldn't contest the Preakness.

Accordingly, Wright said, Coaltown will be shipped from Churchill Downs at Louisville, scene of Calumet's fabulous one - two Derby punch of last Saturday, to Pimlico early next week. Citation already has been shipped to the Baltimore plant, where the Preakness forms the mid - jewel in racing's triple crown.

The Preakness, moreover, is at a mile and three-sixteenths, a sixteenth shorter than Kentucky Derby distance and possibly better suited to Coaltown's tremendous early speed.

FORMER TEAMMATES WILL HEAR ENGLE AT BANQUET HERE

Teammates of Charles "Rip" Engle in the days when the latter played basketball at Salisbury (Pa.) High School and with the Salisbury Cardinals, independent quint, plan to attend the Fort Hill High School All-Sports Banquet at which the Brown University coach will be the principal speaker Thursday, May 13, at the Fort Hill High School cafeteria.

Among those who plan to be here for the big event are Wilbur "Wib" Lichliter and his brother David "Pickles" Lichliter, who coached basketball and football teams at Boswell (Pa.) High School for 20 years, and Johnny Dunn, former Salisbury High coach, who is now teaching in Grantsville, Garrett county.

William Orndorff, chairman of the banquet committee, last night announced that the group which he heads will make final plans for the affair at a meeting on Monday at Fort Hill High School at 8 o'clock.

Tickets for the banquet are still available and may be purchased at the Wilson Hardware Company, Truitt's Drug Store, Shaw's Restaurant, Oldtown Road, and Fort Hill High School.

Change State Meet Date • • • Deetz Affected By Rule

12,513 Witness 20 Shows • • • Glove Must Contact Ball

By C. V. BURNS

Arthur G. Ramey reports that the Maryland scholastic track and field meet will be held on Saturday, May 29, instead of May 22 at Dundalk. The change was made due to state scholarship examinations being scheduled for May 22.

Seven of the 11 record performances in Maryland's first postwar meet last year at Westminster are held by Allegany county athletes.

Bucy of Fort Hill copped the half mile run in 2:12.7.

One of the choice morsels of advance publicity on the House of David baseball team which played here Thursday is that the players belong to a religious cult and are strict vegetarians. Which is nothing but a lot of balderdash.

Monday's amateur show at the State Armory will be the 21st since September in Cumberland. A total of 12,513 have witnessed the 20 shows staged so far this season. This is a good average of 626 cash customers a show.

Marion Klingensmith, the fighting cop from Brownsville, Pa., who scored a knockout in "Vic" Ricker's last pro show here, will fight Larry Huff of Pittsburgh in the main go at Wheeling, Monday, May 10.

The Touchdown Club of Washington, D. C., is giving $10,000 for the promotion of boys' activities in the District of Columbia. A check for $2,500 goes to the Merrick Boys' Club whose amateur boxers have appeared in several Cumberland shows.

Jimmie Deetz, busy little preliminary fighter, is the first local amateur who will be on the shelf for 30 days following his knockout at the hands of Earl Smith in last Monday's show here.

Deetz must pass a physician examination at the end of the 30-day period before he will be allowed to resume hostilities in the ring, according to Clifton Van Roby, A.A.U. commissioner for Western Maryland.

The compulsory eight-count knockdown rule also became effective last Monday.

We talked to quite a few fans before the bouts and they all agreed the new rules are most satisfactory.

Monday's show was the fifty-second staged in Cumberland since the American Legion revived the amateur sport in October, 1945. A total of 448 bouts have been held here in three years without a serious injury.

The new rules may prove to be that ounce of prevention that is worth a pound of cure.

Charles S. "Bill" Catherman, Jr., former member of the Fourth Estate, is the Cumberland Country Club's publicity chairman, and he's doing a topnotch job. "Bill" is editor of the Country Club Bulletin, the organization's newsy sheet that tells of the activities at the club.

Did you know the names of thoroughbred race horses are limited to 14 letters, including spaces, and not more than three words, and no name that has been used in the previous 15 years is permitted.

Dan Willard, secretary of the Interstate Baseball League, tells the one about the team in his circuit that has been griping because it failed to get enough holiday dates at home.

If the dissatisfied one will please check the Bi-State schedule he will find that another team occupies the park on two of the three holidays so he can't get more than one date unless he chases the other league club out of the park on the dates assigned to it or invents a few more holidays.

When a baseball player throws his glove at a batted or thrown ball and the glove fails to come in contact with the horsehide there is no penalty imposed on the player, according to the Official Baseball Rules which have been adopted by the two major leagues and the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

An argument on such a play came up in the recent LaSalle-Fort Hill game at Stitcher Field when a LaSalle player tossed his glove at a batted ball.

According to Rule 47, Section 5, if the glove comes in contact with a batted ball the batsman is entitled to three bases and if a thrown ball the runners are allowed to advance two bases and also go further at their own risk.

In many quarters the impression prevails, and wrongly so, that advancement permitted is limited to three bases on a batted ball and two on a thrown ball.

In conclusion the rules state:

"Note also the mere act of throwing cap, glove or part of uniform at ball in itself is not a violation unless the article comes in contact with the ball."

The contention that the two major leagues have different rulings on the play is wrong.

VICO, TEBBETTS FINED $100 FOR FIST FIGHT

CHICAGO, May 7 (INS) — Detroit's George Vico and Boston's Birdie Tebbetts were fined $100 apiece today for their fist fight following a close play at home during yesterday's Tigers-Red Sox game at Boston.

After receiving a report from umpires on the scene, American League President Will Harridge said Vico, Detroit's rookie first baseman, had been fined for "conduct on the field" and Red Sox catcher Tebbetts for "failure to go immediately to the clubhouse."

Eagles, Ridgeley Tilt Here Today Is League Opener

Centerville Battles Legion Here Sunday

Cumberland's Eagles and the Ridgeley American Legion will open the 1948 Interstate Baseball League season in Cumberland today when they clash at Community Park at 4:30 o'clock.

All Saturday games with the exception of the one here will get under way at 4 p. m. Romney is on standard time.

Barrelville is not scheduled to play a league game Sunday but instead will play Eckhart, an independent nine, at 3 p. m. in Barrelville.

Manager Art Garbark's Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion team, will launch its Interstate campaign tomorrow by playing the Centerville Reds at Community Park at 3 p. m. The Legion's game with the Moose at Stitcher Field will be played as a twilight contest on Thursday, May 13.

Five Sunday games are scheduled in the Bi-State League.

The Amvets play the Queen City Brewers at Stitcher Field at 3:30, Midland is host to Westvaco, Barton invades Hyndman to play the Firemen, Mt. Savage is at Lonaconing and Keyser plays the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Frostburg.

Bob Hurls 4-Hitter, Cleveland Wins, 8-0

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Bob Lemon's 4-hit pitching moved Cleveland into second place in the American League as the Indians defeated Washington, 8-0, here tonight to snap a 4-game losing streak. Allie Clark and Joe Gordon slammed fifth inning homeruns off Mickey Haefner.

Lemon, who won his third game of the season, inserted three of the Indians' 13 hits off Haefner, Marino Pieretti and Forrest Thompson, but Gordon paced Cleveland's hitting with a home run, double and single.

Cleveland clipped Haefner for two runs in the third inning and sprayed three runs across in the fifth inning as Clark homered with none on and Gordon homered after Lou Boudreau had walked. The Indians added three runs off Thompson in the ninth on singles by Boudreau and Eddie Robinson, Gordon's double and Pat Seerey's single.

Lemon struck out five and walked two in lifting the Indians ahead of the idle New York Yankees. Score:

CLEVELAND	002 030 003	8	13 0

Cubs Reduce Squad, Option Two Hurlers

CHICAGO, May 7 (INS)—The Chicago Cubs announced tonight they have optioned two pitchers to trim their playing squad to 31 players — six above the 25-player limit they must reach by May 20.

Righthander Don Carlsen was optioned to the Cubs' Los Angeles Angels farm team in the Pacific Coast League while Ben Wade, another righthander who had been charged with one of the Cubs' losses this season, was sent to the team's Nashville, Tenn., Club in the Southern Association.

Right To Head Settles Issue, 9,319 See Bout

Fight Ends With Ray Groveling On Knees

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, May 7 (INS)—Ezzard Charles returned to Chicago Stadium tonight, and in the ring where he and death were winners together 77 nights ago he knocked out Elmer Ray in two minutes and 47 seconds of the ninth round.

Seconds before that, in turn, Charles, the dark-skinned Cincinnati light heavy who hadn't fought since the Sam Baroudi tragedy at the stadium Feb. 20, had hit Ray hard and fairly low—so low that Ray stumbled drunkenly around the ring thereafter, his arms at his sides.

Whatever it was, Charles derived little material gain from the fast, hard-punching main event watched by 9,319 payees. Charles was to get 22½ per cent of the net gate—the gross was only $42,704— and he pledged $5,000 in advance to the parents and sisters of the late Barouli, Akron, O., negro who was kayoed by Charles and died of a cerebral hemorrhage six hours later.

Promoters Irving Schoenwald and Jack Begun guaranteed a like amount to Baroudi's people, and the fight was staged under Illinois' new safety conditions, an outgrowth of the tragedy the last time there was pro boxing at the stadium.

Charles Gains Revenge

For Charles, the victory was one for revenge, for he lost a split decision to his antique Hastings, Fla., opponent in New York early last summer. At that, it was a hard-won affair, for after taking the first two rounds the lithe, tall Charles, who outreached if not outweighed his foe, tired perceptibly and let the other carry the fight through the sixth canto.

At this juncture, age began to show its unfeeling pleasure as far as Ray was concerned. The tubby heavyweight started coming in second best to Charles' wild swinging, and the latter took heart from this and took the fight to Ray.

Some who saw Charles' stunning ninth-round punch against the north ropes claimed, with Ray, that it was low. Some said no. But as a cut, hurt-looking Ray blundered off the ropes and started walking towards his corner, Referee Tom Kenneally looked at him and said one brusque word:

"Fight!"

Ray got his paws up only once after that. A Charles left shunted him to the east ropes and a Charles right to the head flung him face forward on the canvas.

The new Illinois boxing rules, which call for eight-ounce gloves in all bouts, also call for a mandatory eight count on all knockdowns—but Ray needed no rule book to keep him down. At six he was up on a knee, groping for the ropes. At eight he plunged forward onto both knees, then pitched into Kenneally's arms as the pageant ended.

Swiden Is Kayoed

Bob Satterfield, Chicago, 175 knocked out Art Swiden, Duquesne, Pa., 180½ first round. Time 1:47.

Pep Beats Willis In Detroit Fight

Feather Champ Easily Wins Non-Title Bout

DETROIT, May 7 (INS)—World featherweight champion Willie Pep, of Hartford, Conn., scored an easy 10-round decision tonight over Detroit's Leroy Willis at Olympia Stadium.

Although he weighed in at 131, five pounds over the featherweight limit, there was no question of the victory over Willis, who weighed 134½.

A crowd of 6,674 fans, who paid a gross gate of $15,933, saw the champion coast through the 10 rounds, winning each with ease.

Willis drew cheers from the crowd, not so much for his efforts, but because he was still there at the finish while Pep suffered a few boos for failing to show the ability of which he has always been capable.

Pep slipped to the canvas once in the ninth when his right foot slipped under the rope but he was up without a count. Willis suffered minor cuts over both eyes in the early rounds.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

The Movies and Television

There has been and will continue to be quite a furor over the relationship between the motion picture industry and television. Recently Alexander Korda sold the television rights to twenty-four of his old films, including such excellent pictures as "The Ghost Goes West" with Robert Donat, "The Scarlet Pimpernel" with Leslie Howard, and "The Private Life of Henry VIII, with Charles Laughton, to WPIX, "The Daily News" station in New York. There are persistent rumors that N. B. C. is after a similar deal with J. Arthur Rank which would put Rank's films on the N. B. C. network after their boxoffice value had diminished. Meanwhile, the big film companies, notably Paramount and Warner Bros., are getting into television with no very clear idea where they are going but determined not to be left behind.

John Crosby

There is nothing particularly new about feature films on television but this might be as good a time as any to consider both their advantages and shortcomings for the home audience. There is one obvious advantage. No television outfit could afford now, or probably ever, to produce anything as lavish as, say, "The Private Life of Henry VIII." It would be a rare treat to get it for nothing at home.

●—●—●

The disadvantages of film fare for home consumption are in television's present state of development, unimportant but things won't always be that way. The difference in technique are immense. Long shots which are beautiful on a large screen film are reduced on a television screen to pure eyestrain. And I'm not talking about extremely long shots of a hundred yards or more which the film people do so well but of almost any shot much longer than twenty yards. It's conceivable that a long shot can be very effective on a television screen, provided the arrangement of its masses is large and there is no clutter of details to fuzz things up, but it's too much to expect the film people ever to worry about it.

The Movies and Television

There has been and will continue to be quite a furor over the relationship between the motion picture industry and television. Recently Alexander Korda sold the television rights to twenty-four of his old films, including such excellent pictures as "The Ghost Goes West" with Robert Donat, "The Scarlet Pimpernel" with Leslie Howard, and "The Private Life of Henry VIII," with Charles Laughton, to WPIX, "The Daily News" station in New York. There are persistent rumors that N. B. C. is after a similar deal with J. Arthur Rank which would put Rank's films on the N. B. C. network after their boxoffice value had diminished. Meanwhile, the big film companies, notably Paramount and Warner Bros., are getting into television with no very clear idea where they are going but determined not to be left behind.

John Crosby

There is nothing particularly new about feature films on television but this might be as good a time as any to consider both their advantages and shortcomings for the home audience. There is one obvious advantage. No television outfit could afford now, or probably ever, to produce anything as lavish as, say, "The Private Life of Henry VIII." It would be a rare treat to get it for nothing at home.

●—●—●

The disadvantages of film fare for home consumption are in television's present state of development, unimportant but things won't always be that way. The difference in technique are immense. Long shots which are beautiful on a large screen film are reduced on a television screen to pure eyestrain. And I'm not talking about extremely long shots of a hundred yards or more which the film people do so well but of almost any shot much longer than twenty yards. It's conceivable that a long shot can be very effective on a television screen, provided the arrangement of its masses is large and there is no clutter of details to fuzz things up, but it's too much to expect the film people ever to worry about it.

Lighting is entirely different. Hollywood's lighting technicians are superb—on a picture screen. On a television screen, any subtlety of light or shade comes out all white or all black. A television set isn't that sensitive and may never be On a feature film the other night, I saw a murder committed in semi-darkness, a bit of action that must have been mighty effective on a film screen. On a television screen, it was invisible.

Also—and here we go into subtler difference—screen fare is just too long for home consumption. I don't know why this is exactly but it is. A film just takes longer to pass a given point than the home audience is accutomed to. An hour-long film, generally a routine one, contains about as much story as we are used to hearing in half an hour. As for the longer films, the hour-and-a half or two-hour jobs, the home audience gets fidgety after the hour no matter how good they are. At least, this part of the audience does. It isn't something that can be cured easily by cutting—even if the film people would allow it. Each component scene is a little too long.

Just a footnote on the ancient feature films now being exhibited by television stations the country over. It's become something of a parlor game in my vicinity to try to guess their age by looking them both in the teeth. There are many tattle-tale signs to look for. Concentrate on the women. TO VISIT SCOTLAND-- Sharon Ann Fraser, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, New Creek, and her grandmother, Mrs. James Fraser, 179 South Main Street, Keyser, W. Va., will leave for Scotland on Friday, May 14, aboard the "Queen Elizabeth."

Keyser Resident And Granddaughter Plan Visit To Lochgelly, Scotland

Wife Of B. And O. Man Returns After 27 Years

REPRESENTS SCHOOL — Miss Patricia O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. O'Connor, 43 South Church Street, Keyser, will represent Keyser High School at the May Day Festival to be held at Davis-Elkins College, Elkins, W. Va., today. Miss O'Connor is a senior in Keyser High School and recently won a scholarship to Potomac State School in a speech contest conducted at that school. Her escort to Elkins will be Gilbert Sanders, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sanders, Sr., who is also a member of the senior class.

KEYSER, W. Va.—Mrs. Mary Ann Fraser, wife of James Fraser, 179 South Main Street, Keyser, and her 11-year-old granddaughter, Sharon Ann Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, New Creek, will leave for London and Scotland next Friday, May 14, from New York aboard the "Queen Elizabeth."

Mrs. Fraser, a very gracious lady, said she had anticipated the return to her native home, Lochgelly, Scotland, since coming to the United States 27 years ago. She has been on the waiting list for transportation for two years having just received a ticket a few weeks ago.

She came to this country in 1921, one year after Mr. Fraser came to America. They settled in Pittsburgh for five years, moving to Keyser in 1926 where they have made their home since. Mrs. Fraser said they came to the United States upon the advice of their family physician to change climate.

Hopes To Go Later

Mr. Fraser, now an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, is not returning to their native home at this time but said that he hopes to go in another year or so. He was formerly a teacher of music for the Cumberland Music Company and changed to his present job with the B. and O. during World War II.

Sharon Ann, a charming little girl, is excited about going abroad, she will miss a week or so of her fifth grade school year but feels that the trip will be much more beneficial to her than the last few weeks of the present school term. She and her grandmother will return to Keyser about August 21. Of course, Sharon Ann is the envy of all her school mates now that she is getting out of the last few weeks of school and will continue to be next September when she returns to school and relates to them the events of her "wonderful summer in Scotland."

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, a jovial pair, have been the same as parents to many students of Potomac State School in that they have opened their home to them in previous years as a place to eat and sleep.

In order to alleviate the food shortage being experienced in Scotland, Mrs. Fraser said they

Rudy, veteran of World War I, fills the vacancy on the board caused by the death of W. A. Gonder recently. Other members of the board are Neil C. Fraley and Milton Pritts. A. T. Matthews is attorney to the board.

Blair To Oppose Ash For Mayor

MIDLAND—The annual municipal election at Midland will be held Monday with Verl Ash, present mayor, seeking election for his eighth year.

James G. Blair, prominent Midland resident, will oppose Ash in this year's election for that post. Three councilmen will also be elected from a field of six.

The polling place in the council chamber will be open from 1 until 7 o'clock with a heavy vote anticipated.

Those seeking the three council seats are David Williams, Raymond Berry, George Little, John Meyers, Hugh McMillan and Edward Eisentrout. The three holdover members are John Grimes, John Carr and Patrick Manley. For the clerk post, John T. Stakem is opposing Frank Burns, who is seeking re-election.

American Music Recital Given

FROSTBURG — The pupils of Mrs. Mary Drum Bollino, 75 West Main Street, this city, gave a program of American music at the studio Wednesday night, with the parents and friends of the young musicians as guests of honor. The affair was in celebration of the 25th annual Music Week observance.

TO VISIT SCOTLAND-- Sharon Ann Fraser, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, New Creek, and her grandmother, Mrs. James Fraser, 179 South Main Street, Keyser, W. Va., will leave for Scotland on Friday, May 14, aboard the "Queen Elizabeth."

Keyser Resident And Granddaughter Plan Visit To Lochgelly, Scotland

REPRESENTS SCHOOL — Miss Patricia O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. O'Connor, 43 South Church Street, Keyser, will represent Keyser High School at the May Day Festival to be held at Davis-Elkins College, Elkins, W. Va., today. Miss O'Connor is a senior in Keyser High School and recently won a scholarship to Potomac State School in a speech contest conducted at that school. Her escort to Elkins will be Gilbert Sanders, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sanders, Sr., who is also a member of the senior class.

KEYSER, W. Va.—Mrs. Mary Ann Fraser, wife of James Fraser, 179 South Main Street, Keyser, and her 11-year-old granddaughter, Sharon Ann Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, New Creek, will leave for London and Scotland next Friday, May 14, from New York aboard the "Queen Elizabeth."

Mrs. Fraser, a very gracious lady, said she had anticipated the return to her native home, Lochgelly, Scotland, since coming to the United States 27 years ago. She has been on the waiting list for transportation for two years having just received a ticket a few weeks ago.

She came to this country in 1921, one year after Mr. Fraser came to America. They settled in Pittsburgh for five years, moving to Keyser in 1926 where they have made their home since. Mrs. Fraser said they came to the United States upon the advice of their family physician to change climate.

Hopes To Go Later

Mr. Fraser, now an employe of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, is not returning to their native home at this time but said that he hopes to go in another year or so. He was formerly a teacher of music for the Cumberland Music Company and changed to his present job with the B. and O. during World War II.

Sharon Ann, a charming little girl, is excited about going abroad, she will miss a week or so of her fifth grade school year but feels that the trip will be much more beneficial to her than the last few weeks of the present school term. She and her grandmother will return to Keyser about August 21. Of course, Sharon Ann is the envy of all her school mates now that she is getting out of the last few weeks of school and will continue to be next September when she returns to school and relates to them the events of her "wonderful summer in Scotland."

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, a jovial pair, have been the same as parents to many students of Potomac State School in that they have opened their home to them in previous years as a place to eat and sleep.

In order to alleviate the food shortage being experienced in Scotland, Mrs. Fraser said they

Mt. Top Chamber Sponsors Beauty Contest In Miss Maryland Pageant

OAKLAND—Decision to sponsor a beauty contest in this county, in conjunction with the "Miss Maryland" and "Miss America" contests, was made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce.

This is the first time such a contest has been sponsored in this county to make a local contestant in the state running which might lead to the crown of "Miss America of 1948."

The candidate, who will be known as "Miss Mountain Top," is to be named by July 2. The Miss Maryland contest is sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce and the local Chamber will work in conjunction with the Cumberland organization in carrying out the local contest.

Details are still to be worked out, according to William O. Davis, secretary, but the contest will be held at Deep Creek Lake. The state finals will be conducted in Cumberland on August 2, at which time Barbara Jo Walker, Memphis, Tenn., Miss America of 1947, will be present.

The banquet committee consisting of Davis, Wilbur Close, Charles L. Briner and Arthur Humbertson, has completed arrangements for the annual dinner meeting of the group next Tuesday at Mt. Lake Hotel.

Jennings Randolph, former West Virginia Congressman, will be the speaker. Nine members of the board of directors will be elected followed by election of officers.

OAKLAND, The promotion of a health and physical education program that would provide activities for every child in every school, where the participants would receive the advantages first, was advocated firmly by Dr. Thomas Ferguson, state supervisor of physical education and recreation, in his address here this week before a county-wide boosters meeting.

The dinner gathering at the William-James Hotel was attended by about 100 persons from Oakland, Grantsville, Accident, Friendsville and Kitzmiller. It was sponsored by the Oakland Boosters' Club.

Good leadership, a diversified program, with facilities large enough to take care of every student, were three items which constituted a good physical education program and for a school the size of Oakland Dr. Ferguson advocated a lot with at least 20 acres for athletic endeavors of all students.

have mailed several boxes of food stuff and they will take with them aboard the ship the maximum allowed, which is 50 pounds. That will include tea, coffee, sugar, bacon, butter, etc., Mrs. Fraser said. In relating of the critical shortage of food, especially meat, in Scotland, Mrs. Fraser said that after sending an eight-pound ham to her people sometime ago that she received a letter from them acknowledging receipt of the meat saying that it had been divided among eight families and that it was the first ham they had seen since before the war. She said that after she and Sharon Ann have been in Scotland for three weeks, they will be issued coupons but that clothing coupons will not be issued them. Even though she and Sharon are taking all the necessities in the way of clothing for their three month visit, Mrs. Fraser said she felt sure they would return with empty pieces of luggage as she knew that her people would need the things she would have and could not buy over there.

Proud Of Native Country

As any native is porud of his home country, so are the Frasers proud of their Scotland, "where the summers are five long months of heavenly weather and where one can look out and see nothing but heather on the hill sides." The Frasers were very eager to mention that such noted people as Andrew Carnegie, steel manufacturer and Philanthropist; Adam Smith, a political economist; Robert L. Stevenson, novelist and poet, and Sir Walter Scott, also a novelist and poet, were born within a few miles of their home and that the town of Dunfiemline, a short distance from their home, was the largest linen town in Great Britain.

Of course the return trip to her home will be sad as well as happy for Mrs. Fraser, as her mother, father and one sister, as well as Mr. Fraser's mother, have all passed away since she came to the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser said they could visit relatives in most any country as their people have migrated to many continents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser are parents of four sons, three of whom were born in Scotland. James, a senior at the University of Maryland; Andrew and Peter, both of Keyser, and John, New Creek.

Mrs. Fraser and Sharon Ann, will leave Keyser Monday by train unless the rail strike is averted, otherwise they will not go until the middle of the week. They will be accompanied to the New York Harbor by Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser. Leaving New York on May 14, they will arrive in Southampton on May 19, will cross the English Channel that night, board "The Flying Scot," the fastest train in the world, and will arrive in Longhelly on May 20, making the 700 mile trip by train in 12 hours. They will return to the United States on August 19, leaving England August 12, aboard the "Queen Mary."

Oakland Tax Rate Set At 90 Cents

OAKLAND,—Oakland's city tax rate for 1948 was fixed at 90 cents on each $100 of assessable property, the same figure as last year, it was announced following a meeting of the Mayor and City Council this week.

In the estimated budget it was assumed that expenditures would total $51,000. It was calculated that the rate would bring in $21,640.01 from taxes; that an additional $17,776 would be received from miscellaneous sources, and that the water department receipts would total $14,000. The tax rate was based on an assessable basis of $2,084,457, which is an increase of $133,000 over last year. Added to this would be receipts from an assessable basis of corporations, etc., through the State Tax Commission, the basis there being $320,000. Twenty-five cents of the rate would be used to retire bonds and pay interest, with the remaining 65 cents for general expenses.

Workers were given an increase up to 90 cents an hour. The time question was further discussed but no action taken. Oakland remains on standard time, as does all the remainder of the county with the exception of Grantsville, Bittinger and Crellin.

have mailed several boxes of food stuff and they will take with them aboard the ship the maximum allowed, which is 50 pounds. That will include tea, coffee, sugar, bacon, butter, etc., Mrs. Fraser said. In relating of the critical shortage of food, especially meat, in Scotland, Mrs. Fraser said that after sending an eight-pound ham to her people sometime ago that she received a letter from them acknowledging receipt of the meat saying that it had been divided among eight families and that it was the first ham they had seen since before the war. She said that after she and Sharon Ann have been in Scotland for three weeks, they will be issued coupons but that clothing coupons will not be issued them. Even though she and Sharon are taking all the necessities in the way of clothing for their three month visit, Mrs. Fraser said she felt sure they would return with empty pieces of luggage as she knew that her people would need the things she would have and could not buy over there.

Proud Of Native Country

As any native is porud of his home country, so are the Frasers proud of their Scotland, "where the summers are five long months of heavenly weather and where one can look out and see nothing but heather on the hill sides." The Frasers were very eager to mention that such noted people as Andrew Carnegie, steel manufacturer and Philanthropist; Adam Smith, a political economist; Robert L. Stevenson, novelist and poet, and Sir Walter Scott, also a novelist and poet, were born within a few miles of their home and that the town of Dunfiemline, a short distance from their home, was the largest linen town in Great Britain.

Of course the return trip to her home will be sad as well as happy for Mrs. Fraser, as her mother, father and one sister, as well as Mr. Fraser's mother, have all passed away since she came to the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser said they could visit relatives in most any country as their people have migrated to many continents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser are parents of four sons, three of whom were born in Scotland. James, a senior at the University of Maryland; Andrew and Peter, both of Keyser, and John, New Creek.

Mrs. Fraser and Sharon Ann, will leave Keyser Monday by train unless the rail strike is averted, otherwise they will not go until the middle of the week. They will be accompanied to the New York Harbor by Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser. Leaving New York on May 14, they will arrive in Southampton on May 19, will cross the English Channel that night, board "The Flying Scot," the fastest train in the world, and will arrive in Longhelly on May 20, making the 700 mile trip by train in 12 hours. They will return to the United States on August 19, leaving England August 12, aboard the "Queen Mary."

Fund Totals $1,195.43

OAKLAND—Contributions to the American Red Cross reported this week by the roll call chairman, Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, totaled $336.92, and make a total of $1,195.43 received during the campaign thus far. The quota is $2,100.

Oakland Tax Rate Set At 90 Cents

OAKLAND,—Oakland's city tax rate for 1948 was fixed at 90 cents on each $100 of assessable property, the same figure as last year, it was announced following a meeting of the Mayor and City Council this week.

In the estimated budget it was assumed that expenditures would total $51,000. It was calculated that the rate would bring in $21,640.01 from taxes; that an additional $17,776 would be received from miscellaneous sources, and that the water department receipts would total $14,000. The tax rate was based on an assessable basis of $2,084,457, which is an increase of $133,000 over last year. Added to this would be receipts from an assessable basis of corporations, etc., through the State Tax Commission, the basis there being $320,000. Twenty-five cents of the rate would be used to retire bonds and pay interest, with the remaining 65 cents for general expenses.

Workers were given an increase up to 90 cents an hour. The time question was further discussed but no action taken. Oakland remains on standard time, as does all the remainder of the county with the exception of Grantsville, Bittinger and Crellin.

Made Splendid Record

Hon. Ward M. Dawson, of Berkeley Springs, Morgan County, is one of the able outstanding members of the House of Delegates. At the last session of the Legislature he made a splendid record, winning the confidence and respect of his colleagues. He was well posted on the bills that came up and exercised excellent judgment in voting. He is a forceful speaker, an able debater, as well as a man of excellent judgment, and one of the few who has 100% attendance at every session of the last Legislature. He received his education in the schools of Morgan County and Shenandoah College. He is a successful business man. With his experience he will be in a position to do even better if he is renominated and reelected. The Republicans of Morgan County will make no mistake if they renominate him. CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during the illness and following the death of our father, Mr. George William Nield. We also are grateful to those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral, to Rev. Donald Brake of St. John's Lutheran Church, also to the Knights of Malta for their services.

The family of George William Nield.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son, Vance Albright, who died 2 years ago, May 8, 1946.

We do not need a special day,
To bring you to our mind;
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
If all this world were ours to give,
We'd give it, yes, and more,
To see the face of our dear one
Come smiling thru the door.
Sadly missed by His MOTHER and DAD.

In memory of our husband and father, Charles E. Frankfort, who passed away three years ago today, May 8th, 1945.

My Dear
Your gentle face and pleasant smile,
With sadness we recall;
You had a kindly word for each.
And died beloved by all.
MARIE MARLYN, SONNY, BOB.

In loving memory of my dear husband, John Thomas, who died May 8, 1938.

Today my heart is heavy,
My thoughts are all of thee.
Oh, how I miss you John dear,
None but God in Heaven can see.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But, no it isn't true,
For ten long years have passed, dear,
And my heart still aches for you.
LOVING WIFE DAISY & FAMILY.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during the illness and following the death of our father, Mr. George William Nield. We also are grateful to those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral, to Rev. Donald Brake of St. John's Lutheran Church, also to the Knights of Malta for their services.

The family of George William Nield.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son, Vance Albright, who died 2 years ago, May 8, 1946.

We do not need a special day,
To bring you to our mind;
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
If all this world were ours to give,
We'd give it, yes, and more,
To see the face of our dear one
Come smiling thru the door.
Sadly missed by His MOTHER and DAD.

In memory of our husband and father, Charles E. Frankfort, who passed away three years ago today, May 8th, 1945.

My Dear
Your gentle face and pleasant smile,
With sadness we recall;
You had a kindly word for each.
And died beloved by all.
MARIE MARLYN, SONNY, BOB.

In loving memory of my dear husband, John Thomas, who died May 8, 1938.

Today my heart is heavy,
My thoughts are all of thee.
Oh, how I miss you John dear,
None but God in Heaven can see.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But, no it isn't true,
For ten long years have passed, dear,
And my heart still aches for you.
LOVING WIFE DAISY & FAMILY.

Law Offices of E. M. Horchler, Law Building, South Liberty Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Joseph Perrye and Mary J. Perrye, his wife, vs. Glendon A. Metz, and Mattie A. Metz, his wife, No. 20642 Equity in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to secure the adoption by the petitioners of Edward Charles Metz, infant son of the Defendants.

The Petition states that the Adoptors were married in 1937 and have lived in Cumberland, Maryland for more than eight years, that they have had in their possession for the past several weeks the infant son, Edward Charles Metz, and that they have had born to them no children of their own marriage, have become deeply attached to the child, and wish to adopt the boy. That Mattie A. Metz abandoned her husband's home and her children on March 15, 1948, and has not been seen or heard of since that date. That the Defendant, Glendon A. Metz is a resident of the state of Maryland, but that the Defendant, Mattie A. Metz, his wife, is a non-resident of the state of Maryland, and when last heard of, was supposed to have been in the state of West Virginia.

It is thereupon, this 23rd day of April, 1948, ORDERED by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this order be inserted in one of the daily newspapers published in Allegany County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks, before the 25th day of May, 1948, giving notification to the said Mattie A. Metz of the object and substance of this suit, and warning her to be and appear in Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 10th day of June, 1948, to show cause if any she may have why the decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Stocks Continue Selective Climb; Heavy Dealings Hurt Some Leaders

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Stocks continued to climb selectively today although many leaders stumbled on the heaviest dealings in two weeks.

Top marks running to four points or so were reduced and minus signs cropped up in most departments at the close. Transfers of 1,670,000 shares compared with 1,310,000 Thursday and were the best since April 23.

General Motors was up 1⅜ at 57⅛ in reflection of peak net in the first quarter. Some disappointment over Chrysler's profits in the initial three months eased this issue one-eighth at 54⅞.

Touching highs for 1948 were Mid - Continent Petroleum, which finished ahead 2¾ at 67½ in the wake of reported important oil discoveries in New Mexico; Frisco Railroad one-half at 12½, Baltimore and Ohio one-fourth at 14¾, Sinclair Oil one at 23⅜, Texas Company five - eighths at 62⅝, Union Carbide 1¼ at 119¼, Republic Aviation one at 13 (on an earnings jump) and Radio Corporation five-eighths at 11⅝.

Nickel Plate Railroad issues weakened following announcement of directors that arrearages on the senior stock would be gradually paid. This led some to conclude that any recapitalization program for the road might be postponed or cancelled. The preferred dropped 4½ at 135½ and the common 3¼ at 66.

Fractional losers included United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel Republic Steel, Woolworth, Boeing, United Aircraft, Schenley, Consolidated Edison, American Can, Anaconda, American Tobacco, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Railway, Union Pacific and Illinois Central.

The volume was $4,351,000, compared with yesterday's $4,150,000.

Stocks Continue Selective Climb; Heavy Dealings Hurt Some Leaders

Top marks running to four points or so were reduced and minus signs cropped up in most departments at the close. Transfers of 1,670,000 shares compared with 1,310,000 Thursday and were the best since April 23.

General Motors was up 1⅜ at 57⅛ in reflection of peak net in the first quarter. Some disappointment over Chrysler's profits in the initial three months eased this issue one-eighth at 97⅞.

Touching highs for 1948 were Mid - Continent Petroleum, which finished ahead 2⅜ at 67½ in the wake of reported important oil discoveries in New Mexico; Prisco Railroad one-half at 12½, Baltimore and Ohio one-fourth at 14⅜, Sinclair Oil one at 23⅜, Texas Company five - eighths at 62⅝, Union Carbide 1¼ at 119¼, Republic Aviation one at 13 (on an earnings jump) and Radio Corporation five-eighths at 11⅝.

Nickel Plate Railroad issues weakened following announcement of directors that arrearages on the senior stock would be gradually paid. This led some to conclude that any recapitalization program for the road might be postponed or cancelled. The preferred dropped 4½ at 135½ and the common 3¼ at 66.

Fractional losers included United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel Republic Steel, Woolworth, Boeing, United Aircraft, Schenley, Consolidated Edison, American Can, Anaconda, American Tobacco, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Railway, Union Pacific and Illinois Central.

A lusty interest in a few railroad bonds gave the market a little life but trading in most issues was slow.

United States government bonds ranged steady to 3/32 higher in over-the-counter dealings.

The volume was $4,351,000, compared with yesterday's $4,150,000.

Railroad Strike May Idle 5,000 On Local Division

General Furlough Notices Are Posted

Over 5,000 of the 6,900 employes of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will be furloughed effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, if the threatened strike of enginemen, firemen and hostler materializes, H. F. Wyatt, division superintendent estimated last night. This number includes employes at Cumberland, Keyser, W. Va., and Martinsburg, W. Va.

Acting on orders of Roy B. White, president of the 11-state system, furlough notices were posted yesterday affecting all but supervisory personnel, maintenance and emergency standby crews, police and a few shopmen retained to overhaul idle equipment. More than 50,000 of the company's 65,000 employes will be furloughed, President White stated.

Wyatt said plans have been made to store all equipment of trains terminating here prior to 6 a. m. Tuesday, and no new trains will be made up. An effort will be made to get through trains on to their terminals, he explained.

No Mail Provisions

If the strike materializes, only milk trains, military trains and hospital trains are authorized to move. No provision is made to carry mail, railroad officials said.

Embargoes have been announced on carload and less than rarload shipments of livestock, citrus fruits, fresh meats and other perishables. At 12:01 a. m. Monday, the embargo will be extended to include all less than carload shipments.

"The pending issue involves both wages and rules. The rules are not at issue on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with the exception of the engineers on the Toledo Division, the engineers and firemen on the Buffalo Division, and other minor exceptions. The threatened action by the engineers and firemen is being taken notwithstanding an impartial Emergency Board, appointed by the President of the United States under the Railway Labor Act, heard evidence regarding the matters in dispute and deliberated for two months, and made its report to the President of the United States containing recommendations for a settlement of the entire dispute. The railroads accepted the recommendations contained in this report and while they were not accepted by representatives of the engineers and firemen, negotiations between the railroads and such representatives were conducted with respect thereto.

Difficulties Not Insurmountable

"While only a few recommendations were made as to rules proposed by the railroads, other than those which the Board recommended be withdrawn, they did not present insurmountable difficulties. However, representatives of the employes insisted upon opening up and discussing all matters which were in controversy prior to the report of the Emergency Board, notwithstanding its recommendations, thus indicating they had no intentions of settling on the basis of the Board's report. While they apparently were insistent upon having more money

County Firemen To Hold Annual Conclave June 10

Bloomington Will Be Host Company

The Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its annual convention at Bloomington Volunteer Fire Company and Auxiliary hosts to 28 member companies and their auxiliaries. Charles Patterson, president of Bloomington firemen, is convention chairman.

At a meeting last Sunday at Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, at which Joseph Wenrich, Cresaptown, Association vice president presided, several committee appointments were announced and plans tentatively made for the annual conclave.

The publicity committee includes Chester Shimer, Westernport, Cromwell Zembower, LaVale, and David Robertson, Bowman's Addition.

The annual convention of firemen in the two-county association is the feature event of their activities and always attracts scores of fire companies from nearby Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The parade held as a part of the affair is also a colorful event.

The business meeting, at which officers will be elected and other business transacted is scheduled for June 10 at 1 p. m., Wenrich said. Other events, including a carnival, dancing and other recreation will be held throughout the week, with a parade as one of the top attractions.

Mrs. Fisher Told County Will Not Pay Harris' Rent

A letter was sent to Mrs. Grace M. Fisher, owner of a building on South Liberty Street, now partially occupied by Morgan C. Harris, state's attorney, notifying her that the county will not be responsible for rent for the structure.

The letter was written by Lewis M. Wilson, attorney for the County Board of Commissioners at the board's instructions, and it stated the board has not authorized Harris to rent the offices.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said Harris moved his offices into the building and refused to occupy quarters provided for him in the Library Annex. Wilkinson and Harris clashed at two board meetings over "adequate quarters." Wilkinson contends that since the Union Street County Building was damaged by fire, forcing the state's attorney to move his offices, the county board filed its obligation by helping procure quarters in the Library Annex.

Harris claims the Library Annex quarters are too small and there is the added danger of a fire hazard there because of papers, books, etc. stored in the building. Wilkinson said the quarters could have been used in an emergency, and the county should not be put to added expense by renting quarters downtown.

Harris told the board last week that under the law he does not need the county board's permission to rent quarters, and said he would file a petition in Circuit Court asking the judges for an interpretation of the law in the case. No petition has yet been filed, attaches said late yesterday.

Buchholtz Sees Budgets Filled Without Tax Hike

Pay Increases For City Workers Likely

The budget requests of Cumberland's municipal departments, expected to hit the $1,000,000 mark for the first time in the city's history, will come close to being without a hike in city tax rates, William H. Buhholtz, finance commissioner, said last night.

With a preliminary survey of the numerous budget requests as well as demands from city employes for a cost of living wage increase already completed, Buchholtz said he believed the city will be able to operate on the present tax rate.

"We will be able to grant an amount close enough to the requests," Buchholtz said "to make some of the much needed civic improvements possible at this time."

The city has already received requests from the city employes, including the police department, for pay hikes, and the finance commissioner said cost of living salary increases are being considered in the present study.

After completing the preliminary study of budget requests submitted to the Mayor and City Council, Buchholtz said he believes some of the appropriations can be rearranged to offset an increase in the city tax rate.

Edgar Reynolds, commissioner of streets and public property, said he will ask for a large appropriation for parks and playgrounds when he submits his budget request today. The Streets and Public Property Budget for the last fiscal year was $192,800.

With anticipated improvements in the department, Reynolds request is expected to go well over the $200,000 mark for the 15-months period.

Councilman William J. Edwards, commissioner of light and water, said his budget requests will total $33,000.

The city Police Department has already requested $214,555 and the Health Department asked for $36,-481.

Model Pact Includes Insurance, Union Shop

John G. Thomas, business manager of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, yesterday announced ratification of contract terms between the Lonaconing sub-local of Local 1874 and the General Textile Mills, Inc.

The new agreement, which was ratified by a unanimous vote of the membership early yesterday afternoon includes:

A flat 10 cents an hour wage increase for the some 200 workers of the plant. The increase will bring the base rate at the mill to 93 cents an hour and the rate for the spinning department to 99½ cents, with five and 10 cent shift differentials.

In lieu of the check-off of union dues requested by the union, the company agreed to allow the treasurer of the sub-local to collect union dues within the plant.

The contract negotiations also resulted in the installation of electrically cooled water fountains, improved wash room and first aid facilities, the union said.

The new contract will become effective Sunday upon the expiration of the present agreement.

Green Spring Workers Reject Company Offer

The negotiating committee for members of Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, employed at the Koppers Company's wood preserving plant at Green Spring, W. Va., will recommend a work stoppage at a meeting of the union tomorrow.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent, said the membership will act upon the recommendation at a meeting planned Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Green Spring School. The action, he added, results from the failure to reach a satisfactory agreement with the company on a new contract.

The union, representing some 125 employes of the plant, said workers have rejected a company offer of a six-cent flat increase, three and five cent shift differentials and six paid holidays. Contracts talks began on a 30 cent increase basis.

A company spokesman explained the offer world mean an average 10½ cent increase, with actual increases resulting from the flat wage boost, paid holidays and job evaluation ranging from eight to 16 cents an hour.

The company, it was explained some days ago, has no intention of attempting to operate the plant if a work stoppage should occur.

Pa. Police Continue Fatal Mishap Probe

Pennsylvania State Police are continuing their probe of the death of Roy Kennell, 56, RFD 1, Hyndman, Pa., who died thursday in Memorial Hospital.

Officials of the force in Somerset said that while they believe Kennell was run over by a truck or automobile they have not definitely established the operator of the vehicle.

A cousin, Jesse Kennell, told authorities that he brought Kennell to his home at 12:05 o'clock Wednesday morning and left him out. He was not aware that the man was injured until he failed to report for work at a nearby sawmill the following day.

The Weather

Keep those topcoats, umbrellas and raincoats handy today, as there is more rain in the air and by nightfall it will be kinda coolish around the edges, or at least that is what the weatherman has on tap for the Cumberland area today. He also says that the clouds will still be overhead, but that there is a remote possibility Mr. Sun may sneak out sometime. Lots of wind too, says the genial old gent, so take necessary steps to prevent colds and any unnecessary sickness. Friday was a dismal day until around sunset time and then it turned into a real spring look, and its about time the weather took a "new look" too. The high temperature reading Friday was 55 degrees, coming up from a low of 47 during the night. At 10 o'clock last night, the mercury stood at a moderate 46. The rainfall for the 24-hour period was 0.16 inches, bringing the total to 2.11 inches for the month, which is way above the average.

Railroad Strike May Idle 5,000 On Local Division

General Furlough Notices Are Posted

Over 5,000 of the 6,900 employes of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will be furloughed effective at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday, if the threatened strike of enginemen, firemen and hostler materializes, H. F. Wyatt, division superintendent estimated last night. This number includes employes at Cumberland, Keyser, W. Va., and Martinsburg, W. Va.

Acting on orders of Roy B. White, president of the 11-state system, furlough notices were posted yesterday affecting all but supervisory personnel, maintenance and emergency standby crews, police and a few shopmen retained to overhaul idle equipment. More than 50,000 of the company's 65,000 employes will be furloughed, President White stated.

Wyatt said plans have been made to store all equipment of trains terminating here prior to 6 a. m. Tuesday, and no new trains will be made up. An effort will be made to get through trains on to their terminals, he explained.

No Mail Provisions

If the strike materializes, only milk trains, military trains and hospital trains are authorized to move. No provision is made to carry mail, railroad officials said.

Embargoes have been announced on carload and less than carload shipments of livestock, citrus fruits, fresh meats and other perishables. At 12:01 a. m. Monday, the embargo will be extended to include all less than carload shipments.

In a letter to all railroad empoyes, President White outlined the situation as follows:

"The pending issue involves both wages and rules. The rules are not at issue on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with the exception of the engineers on the Toledo Division, the engineers and firemen on the Buffalo Division, and other minor exceptions. The threatened action by the engineers and firemen is being taken notwithstanding an impartial Emergency Board, appointed by the President of the United States under the Railway Labor Act, heard evidence regarding the matters in dispute and deliberated for two months, and made its report to the President of the United States containing recommendations for a settlement of the entire dispute. The railroads accepted the recommendations contained in this report and while they were not accepted by representatives of the engineers and firemen, negotiations between the railroads and such representatives were conducted with respect thereto.

Difficulties Not Insurmountable

"While only a few recommendations were made as to rules proposed by the railroads, other than those which the Board recommended be withdrawn, they did not present insurmountable difficulties. However, representatives of the employes insisted upon opening up and discussing all matters which were in controversy prior to the report of the Emergency Board, notwithstanding its recommendations, thus indicating they had no intentions of settling on the basis of the Board's report. While they apparently were insistent upon having more money

Bloomington Will Be Host Company

The Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its annual convention at Bloomington Volunteer Fire Company and Auxiliary hosts to 28 member companies and their auxiliaries. Charles Patterson, president of Bloomington firemen, is convention chairman.

At a meeting last Sunday at Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, at which Joseph Wenrich, Cresaptown, Association vice president presided, several committee appointments were announced and plans tentatively made for the annual conclave.

Felix Foote, Lonaconing, John Pritchard, Grantsville, and Harry Wilson, Baltimore Pike, comprise the parade prize committee.

Mrs. Fisher Told County Will Not Pay Harris' Rent

A letter was sent to Mrs. Grace M. Fisher, owner of a building on South Liberty Street, now partially occupied by Morgan C. Harris, state's attorney, notifying her that the county will not be responsible for rent for the structure.

The letter was written by Lewis M. Wilson, attorney for the County Board of Commissioners at the board's instructions, and it stated the board has not authorized Harris to rent the offices.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson, board president, said Harris moved his offices into the building and refused to occupy quarters provided for him in the Library Annex. Wilkinson and Harris clashed at two board meetings over "adequate quarters." Wilkinson contends that since the Union Street County Building was damaged by fire, forcing the state's attorney to move his offices, the county board filed its obligation by helping procure quarters in the Library Annex.

Harris claims the Library Annex quarters are too small and there is the added danger of a fire hazard there because of papers, books, etc. stored in the building. Wilkinson said the quarters could have been used in an emergency, and the county should not be put to added expense by renting quarters downtown.

Harris told the board last week that under the law he does not need the county board's permission to rent quarters, and said he would file a petition in Circuit Court asking the judges for an interpretation of the law in the case. No petition has yet been filed, attaches said late yesterday.

Buchholtz Sees Budgets Filled Without Tax Hike

Pay Increases For City Workers Likely

The budget requests of Cumberland's municipal departments, expected to hit the $1,000,000 mark for the first time in the city's history, will come close to being without a hike in city tax rates, William H. Buhholtz, finance commissioner, said last night.

With a preliminary survey of the numerous budget requests as well as demands from city employes for a cost of living wage increase already completed, Buchholtz said he believed the city will be able to operate on the present tax rate.

"We will be able to grant an amount close enough to the requests," Buchholtz said "to make some of the much needed civic improvements possible at this time."

The city has already received requests from the city employes, including the police department, for pay hikes, and the finance commissioner said cost of living salary increases are being considered in the present study.

After completing the preliminary study of budget requests submitted to the Mayor and City Council, Buchholtz said he believes some of the appropriations can be rearranged to offset an increase in the city tax rate.

Edgar Reynolds, commissioner of streets and public property, said he will ask for a large appropriation for parks and playgrounds when he submits his budget request today. The Streets and Public Property Budget for the last fiscal year was $192,800.

With anticipated improvements in the department, Reynolds request is expected to go well over the $200,000 mark for the 15-months period.

Councilman William J. Edwards, commissioner of light and water, said his budget requests will total $33,000.

The city Police Department has already requested $214,555 and the Health Department asked for $36,481.

The contract negotiations also resulted in the installation of electrically cooled water fountains, improved wash room and first aid facilities, the union said.

The negotiating committee for members of Local 453, Teamsters Union, AFL, employed at the Koppers Company's wood preserving plant at Green Spring, W. Va., will recommend a work stoppage at a meeting of the union tomorrow.

The union, representing some 125 employes of the plant, said workers have rejected a company offer of a six-cent flat increase, three and five cent shift differentials and six paid holidays. Contracts talks began on a 30 cent increase basis.

Air Mail Anniversary Will Be Observed Here Beginning May 15

The 30th anniversary of the inauguration of the United States Air Mail Service will be celebrated soon, with the week of May 15-21 being designated by the Postoffice Department as the time to be set aside for its observance.

The anniversary is May 15, 1918, when mail first took to the air with only 218 miles of routes, while a recent survey reveals that on January 1, 1948, there were 125,000 miles of domestic air mail routes.

Nation-wide ceremonies are being planned as well as many civic functions, according to William C. McDermott, acting postmaster of the Cumberland office. As yet, nothing definite has been planned locally, but it is expected that one or more public events will be scheduled.

During the observance, the postoffice will explain and assist any patrons who wish to send letters air mail either in the United States or foreign lands.
